Forty-eighth Annual Missouri State Fair Will Close Tonight

Thrill Show Tonite And The 100-Lap Stock Car Races This Afternoon At 1:30

The 48th Annual Missouri State Fair comes to a close tonight with the final performance being the Jimmy Lynch Death Dodgers Thrill show which will definitely be shown rain or shine in front of the grandstand at 8:00 o'clock. This afternoon, however, will see the feature attraction of the 100-lap passenger stock-car races starting at 1:30 o'clock despite the amount of rain which fell Saturday night and early this morning.

The fair attendance for 1950 is gradually mounting and is expected to break the record of 1949, which was 303,521. The attendance recorded for Saturday was 38,061 compared with 37,584 in 1949. Should the weather today be good and the attendance continue on the average with other days of the fair, the record of '49 will be surpassed, by at least 50,000 people.

Heavy Rain Saturday

Saturday night about 9:00 o'clock several thousand fair visitors rushed to their cars and other shelters from the grandstand and midway attractions on account of a heavy rain. However, there were still others who sought shelter in nearby exhibit tents and under awnings at various concession stands to await a slack in the shower hoping to attend the Johnny Jones Carnival and the other shows on the grounds. The rain which fell Saturday night and this morning most likely it would be possible to get the tracks in order for the stock-car races today.

The traffic was handled as the motorists left the Fair Grounds in a most orderly manner with out any accidents occurring.

The car drivers co-operated with the State Highway Patrol Troopers, who stood in the rain at various intersections directing the movement of traffic very efficiently.

The track itself had been before the races Saturday afternoon and the constant running of the race cars during the afternoon packed the earth in such a way officials feel the rain will not damage the running condition of the track too much to continue the racing program for this afternoon.

Many Exhibits Remaining

Some exhibits are ramaining on the grounds to be visited while a large number of the live stock and poultry exhibits have been taken from the grounds to go to other fairs.

The Johnny J. Jones show will remain open today and tonight for those who desire to see the carnival and shows on the midway.

Friday's attendance was 26,557 or 5,508 short of that of 1949 when 32,165 persons passed through the gates of the fair grounds. The total attendance up to Saturday night for the year was 320,922.

Praise To Flower Exhibit

Miss Lucy Kelly, advertising manager in St. Louis on the Garden Forum and for the Greater St. Louis Flower Show and Miss Edith Murch, architect, who planned the last Greater St. Louis Flower Show, were visitors at the State Fair this week and were very complimentary of the flower exhibit of the Missouri Federation of Garden Clubs held Thursday in the Floricultural building, as well as the entire fair.

Miss Murch is from a family of architects her father being a member of the Murch Brothers Architects and her sister also being an architect.

Thirty-fifth Is Headed Home

FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo., Aug. 26—(AP)—The 35th division of the Missouri-Kansas national guard broke camp today and its members started home after two weeks of training.

A big item for the departing troops was the $665,000 pay roll. The Kansans got their pay yesterday and the Missourians were paid off this morning.

Maj. Gen. John C. McLaughlin, commanding general, said the field training was "gratifying." The division, he added, spent more time in the field this session than in any previous peacetime maneuvers.

New guardsmen, comprising up to 50 per cent of some units, took their training seriously because many of them expect to be called to active duty soon.

Communist Led Terror Raids By Guerrillas

At Least 167 Were Killed And Towns Were Also Ravaged

By Frank L. White

MANILA, Aug. 26—(AP)—Five thousand Communist-led guerrillas ravaged and set fire to 11 towns in central Luzon last night and today in terror raids that left 167 persons known dead.

The heavily armed and Red-directed marauders swooped down from the hills in what a high official called a "concerted" attack against the Philippine government.

The raiding "Hukbalahaps," who organized to help fight the Japanese during World War II but refused to disband when peace came, raided within 25 miles of Manila before they retreated toward the cane-breaks and mountains late Saturday afternoon.

A heavy police guard was thrown around this capital city. In the uneasy quiet of Saturday night.

Hundred Toll At Tarlac

The toll included 100 persons killed at Tarlac, 70 miles north of Manila. Government reports said at least 20 dead "Huks" were left on the battle scenes where the Philippine army used light tanks to rout the rebels.

In many places, the government said, the Huks left Communist literature behind. In some attacks, according to witnesses, the guerrillas shouted opposition to Philippine government plans to send a combat team to aid the United Nations in Korea.

A national defense headquarters spokesman said the Filipino soldiers, a group of about 4,000, still would go to Korea as soon as transportation was available.

The Huks have been increasingly active in murderous attacks against outlying districts where Philippine troops are scarce and police protection scanty.

One Huk raiding party hit Arayat, only 10 miles from the American air force base at Clerk Field, 50 miles northwest of Manila.

The strongest of the Communist guerilla forays was against Tarlac and nearby Camp Macabulos, a Philippines constabulary headquarters. There the Huks massacred 10 troopers in their beds and killed 20 in later fighting, including two women officers.

Nine Report Sept. 14 For Induction

Orders from the local selective service board went out to nine men between the ages of 24 to 22 years old Thursday to report Thursday, September 14 for induction into the armed forces.

The following is a list of those who received induction notices: William Daniel Washington, colored, 24, Sedalia; Mitchell L. Jackson, colored, 23, Sedalia; Charles R. Eoff 23, Sedalia; Raymond W. Moon, 23, Sedalia; Kent L. Damrill, 23, Sedalia; Bob L. Starke, 23, Sedalia; Donald G. Hilton, 23, Sedalia; James D. Johnson, 22, Sedalia and Vernon L. Horn, 22, Hughesville.

These men either were classed in 1A or 1AO for only those registrants in those two classes may be called for induction. The only deferment authorized to date by Selective Service National Headquarters, is the one for students of the healing arts. This is due to the shortage of doctors, dentists and veterinarians.

Along with the announcement of Pettis county's first inductive call came another call for forty-four men in the twenty-one year old age bracket to report to Kansas City on August 29th for their physical examination. This was followed by still another call for eleven more in the same age bracket to report for their physicals on September 6.

War Victim

Pfc. Elmer R. Lange, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Lange, of Sweet Springs, who died of wounds received in the Korean War, according to word received recently by his parents, and made public officially by the government last week. He enlisted in the army in November, 1947, and went overseas in May, 1948.

Plans Snarled In Hot Disputes

Doubt If Congress Can Get Away Before Labor Day

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP)—Plans for getting Congress out of town by next weekend were snarled today in hot disputes about wage-price controls, excess profits taxes and Commuist controls.

A week ago both Democratic and Republican leaders—anxious to get home for election year campaigning—were cooperating on a timetable calling for a windup Sept. 2—just before Labor Day.

A few optimists still hoped this might be possible but veterans on Capital Hill thought they would be lucky to get away by mid-September. Now it looks as though they were nearly right.

The Senate is bogged down in angry argument about tacking an excess profits levy to the $4,500,000,000 tax increase bill approved by the Senate finance committee.

Also threatening a delay was President Truman's request for homefront controls although this has been approved by both the Senate and House.

A Senate-House conference committee was deadlocked over the wage-price powers, They will meet again Tuesday for another try at a compromise. The House voted to let President Truman apply these controls on a selective basis while the Senate version calls for an "all or none" application.

Piled up behind these disputes was the touchy argument on subversive controls. A powerful Senate group is insisting on rigid restrictions and penalties upon Communists and fellow travelers. Administration leaders now have come in with their own modified version of controls.

The issue is to be fought out as soon as the Senate completes action on the tax bill, probably sometime next week.

Twelve Injured As Trains Collide

ELMIRA, Mich., Aug. 26—(AP)—A Pennsylvania railroad passenger train collided head-on with a freight train near here today, injuring 12 persons.

Eight were taken to little Traverse hospital in Petoskey. Most of the injuries were slight.

The collision occurred on a curve of single track down Elmira Hill, a nine-mile grade that is one of the longest in Michigan.

Four cars on the 19-car freight train were derailed while two sets of wheels on the passenger engine went off the track. The passenger train, northbound from Grand Rapids to Mackinaw City, consisted of a mail car, baggage car and coach. Both engines were diesels.

In Grand Rapids, Pennsylvania railroad officials declined to speculate on the cause of the accident.

Most seriously hurt was Antoine Miller, 62, Pennsylvania trainmaster from Grand Rapids. He suffered a possible skull fracture, spinal injury and possible fractured hip.

Railroads To Be Run By A Few

Skeleton Group Will Be Made Up Of Less Than Fifty Men; Will Take Over Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP) — The army set up a skeleton organization of fewer than 50 men today to take over the nation's major railroads tomorrow and see that their normal operations go on without a break.

Karl R. Bendetsen, assistant secretary, announced that all necessary steps have been taken to carry out President Truman's order that the army seize the railroads at 4 p m. EST tomorrow to avert a threatened strike.

He emphasized that the army wants sufficient reports to be sure that normal operations are maintained but that it will not interfere in operations if they are carried on normally.

Bendetsen announced these steps to carry out the seizure:

1. Major General Frank A Heileman, a veteran engineer officer who is the army's chief of transportation, has been appointed director of operations. Brigadier General Andrew F. McIntyre, of Philapelphia, a reserve officer on leave from the Pennsylvania, will be General Heileman's executive.

2. Seven regional offices with staffs of five officers each, and three sub-regional offices with staffs of two each, will be open for business tomorrow morning in key cities over the United States. The regional offices will be in charge of railway presidents, who are also reserve officers and are being called to active duty. The sub-regional directors will be officers already on duty with the transportation corps.

3. The army has sent both telegrams and registered letters to the presidents of 195 major railroads, advising them of the impending seizure and directing them to post notices of it at major stations.

4. Bendetsen told reporters that he had been in touch with officials of the railroads and of the railway brotherhoods involved in their current dispute—the brotherhood of railway trainmen and the order of railway conductors. He said both assured him "of continued operation of the railroads without impairment of services."

Army Is Neutral

Bendetsen told reporters that the army is neutral in the dispute between management and the brotherhoods over the union demands. The unions seek a 40 hour work week without reduced pay, instead of the present 48 hour week, for yard workers, and wage increases for other brotherhood members.

"We're hopeful, just as everybody else is hopeful," Bendetsen said, "that they can get together and work this out so the government can turn the roads back in short time."

The army said that the seven railroad presidents called to active duty to be regional directors will be working for the army and will not continue to act as presidents of their own roads.

"They will not be men wearing two hats," an officer said.

Regional offices and their directors include:

Southwestern region, St. Louis—Colonel Clark Hungerford, president of the St. Louis-San Francisco railway company, regional director. Office: Frisco building.

Bendetsen told reporters that what happens to army profits made by the railroads during the seizure depends on agreements that the army will seek to negotiate with each of the roads. He expressed hope that compensation, in exchange for a government release of any claim to profits. If a carrier should not agree, he said, it would have to account for profits and long drawn out litigation might result.

OTTAWA, Aug. 26—(AP)—The Canadian railways announced tonight breakdown of renewed negotiations with their striking union employes, undertaken at the request of Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent in an effort to settle the crippling five-day-old nation-wide rail shutdown.

In a statement issued as labor and management representatives were to meet for their fourth joint session since last night, the railways checked the solution back to Parliament, which meets in special session Tuesday.

First Snow Of The Season At Pike's Peak

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 26—(AP)—The first snowstorm of the season caught a crowd of tourists on the Summit of Pikes Peak this afternoon, and stalled some 30 cars.

Charred Body In Burned Car

CHARLESTON, Mo., Aug. 26—(AP)—The charred body of a man tentatively identified as Bill Lowder, 65, of Diehlstadt, Mo., was found today in a burned car on a country road about six miles southwest of here.

Sheriff Ernest Scott of Mississippi county reported there was a bullet hole in the side of the auto near the driver's door.

"Undoubtedly it was murder," he added.

The sheriff said Lowder, a retired farmer, is missing and that the burned automobile was his. The man's wife, who has two sons and three daughters, said he left home early this morning.

"Lowder sold his farm last March and reportedly had been carrying large sums of money on him," Scott said. "Robbery could have been the motive."

Nineteen The Death Toll As Ships Collide

Mercy Ship Was Rammed By A Freighter Off San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26—(AP)—The sea gave up another victim of the hospital ship Benevolence disaster tonight, bringing to 19 the number who lost their lives when the proud white mercy ship was rammed and sunk off the Golden Gate.

The dead included a navy nurse.

Eighteen persons might still be missing, the navy said. Any or all of these could have drowned when the 524 persons believed to have been aboard the Benevolence were cast into the fog-bound waters of the gate late yesterday.

With darkness heightening the perils of the cold, choppy waters, rescuers said that it was almost miraculous that they were able to save 487.

The navy said its estimate of the number aboard—524—was made after exhaustive checking. Earlier, the figure had varried up to 526. There was no complete list of those who went out on the Benevolence's shakedown run.

Collided With Freighter

The hospital ship was lost in collision with the freighter Mary Luckenbach, outbound for gulf and east coast ports. The freighter, with her bow smashed, stayed afloat and aided in rescue work, but the hospital ship capsized and went down in little more than 15 minutes.

While the thick white fog was blamed principally for the accident, the navy and coast guard indicated as they opened inquiries today that they also were interested in determining the speed of the vessels. When they sighted each other, they were on a collision course and unable to avoid hitting.

The Benevolence settled on her side in 75 feet of water.

The Mary Luckenbach was not badly damaged and none of her crew was injured.

Capt. Barton E. Bacon, 49, skipper of the hospital ship, was on the bridge with Capt. Lyle J. Havens, harbor pilot.

Captain Bacon said Havens shouted "I hear a whistle!"

The flash went to the engine room "Full stop. Full right rudder."

"Then the ship appeared," Captain Bacon related. "While we were making the turn it hit us."

Captain Lost Life

Captain Havens was one of the dead brought ashore that night.

Those who did not die saved themselves or were saved, in a multitude of manners. One boy told of playing a grim game of "ring around the rosy" in the cold water with the fog dripping around them, waiting for rescue.

"We formed a circle with our hands to stay afloat," he said. "The ring got bigger and bigger. When one guy got a cramp or started to go down, we hauled him over our arms and held him till he was better."

The Benevolence and the Mary Luckenbach each carried radar equipment. One of the survivors was a young electrician's mate—reporters didn't get his name—who said as he was warming up on coffee "I don't know what happened. We had five ships on that radar screen and not one was near us, and all of a sudden we get rammed."

Haven Into Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP)—The Navy today ordered another hospital ship out of the mothball fleet to take the place of the Benevolence, lost in the collision off the Golden Gate last night.

The ship to be put into operation immediately is the Haven, now tied up at San Diego. The Haven was mothballed soon after she came back from Bikini Atom bomb tests where she served as a hospital ship.

Bill For Rearming To Senate

House Passes An Emergency Bill Calling For Sum Of $16,771,384,479

WASHINGTON, Aug 26—(AP)—A $16,771,384,479 emergency bill to help rearm this country and its allies was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

The roll call vote was 311 to 1. The lone opponent was Rep. Rich (R-Pa), who asks almost daily: "Where's the money coming from?"

Among other combat "hardware" items the big appropriation measure provides for purchase of 5,333 warplanes.

It boosts to more than $30,000,000,000 the military outlays set up for this year.

And Rep. Ahon (D-Tex, chairman of the military appropriations subcommittee, told the House yesterday that the defense department is preparing another request for $10,000,000,000.

Of the total in today's bill, $4,000,000,000 goes to help friendly countries aboard build up their armed power to resist Communist aggression.

General Appropriation

Yesterday the House sent to the Senate a $35,554,490,425 general appropriation bill which included $14,500,000,000 for defense.

Besides foreign arms aid, other big allotments in the new bill include $260,000,000 for work on the hydrogen bomb and the atom bomb, $598,637,370 to stockpile strategic materials, $4,535,400,000 for the air force, $2,648,029,000 for the navy and $3,063,547,000 for the army.

In addition there is $62,655,850 to strengthen the state department's "Voice of America" program, $190,000,000 for military research and development, $19,360,000 for selective service, $18,000,000 to get laid-up merchant ships in readiness and $10,000,000 for President Truman's emergency fund.

The navy's share of the emergency measure contains $185,000,000 for shipbuilding, including a speed-up in getting laid-up fighting ships ready for action; and $1,596,269,000 to procure 2,377 new warplanes and build the navy's air arm up to 7,335 planes.

More than half of the air force funds are for plane purchases. The $2,672,570,000 for planes is figured to provide 2,956 aircraft to give the air force 4,428 new planes.

The $4,000,000,000 for foreign arms air provides $3,504,000,000 for the North Atlantic area, $193,000,000 for Greece, Turkey and Iran, and $303,000,000 for the Philippines and for southern and eastern Asia.

Debate on the bill was centered mainly on the "Voice of America" and the foreign arms aid provisions, but no attempt was made to alter either section.

Four Inches Of Rain At Carthage Saturday

CARTHAGE, Mo., Aug. 26—(AP)—More than four inches of rain in less than 24 hours sent Spring river roaring out of its banks and into the industrial district at the north edge of Carthage tonight.

The heavy rains fell along a 40-mile stretch from Carthage to the headwaters of Spring river near Aurora.

Aurora had 3:65 inches last night. Another inch fell early today and the rain was continuing. Carthage had 3.20 inches early today and .97 inch tonight. Neosho reported 3.24 inches and Beaver, Ark., 3:35.

Water was over the Frisco tracks and in the railroad's station here tonight. The Carthage creamery had two feet of water in its plant. Other big plants were surrounded by water.

U. S. highway 66 was blocked, but traffic was moving over a by-pass route around the flood.

Hickory creek blocked U. S. highway 71 for a time this morning at Neosho.

Lightning struck viciously at Aurora. Seven cows under a tree were killed. A business building and a house were struck. The Catholic church at Carthage also was damaged by lightning.

BULLETINS

This was the situation along the 120-mile battle perimeter, beginning at Pohang and curving west and south:

POHANG—Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army, and Lt. Gen. Earl Partridge, commander of the Fifth Air Force, rushed to the sector to study the South Korean reverses north of Pohang and south of Kigye. The Red drive, which American officers had been expecting, menaced not only the port city of Pohang but a nearby airfield used by supply planes. The capital division's new position south of Kigye apparently was designed to protect the main highway from Pohang to Taegu.

TAEGU AREA— Near Chongno, 24 miles northeast of Taegu, South Korean First Division troops secured high ground Saturday, reoccupied the village of Chonpyong and straightened their line. It had been dented earlier by spearheads of 20,000 Reds. At Tabu, 13 males northeast of Taegu, other South Koreans Saturday night wiped out the last remnants of a Red infiltration force which once totaled 1,000 or more.

WAEGWAN AREA, 12 miles northwest of Taegu—South of Waegwan, U. S. First Cavarly Division soldiers were cleaning up a Communist pocket on the east bank of the Naktong river. They already have killed 200. Saturday, First Cavalry patrols crossed the Naktong and encountered strong resistance. Since the Red defeat north of Taegu, other patrols have crossed in the Waegwan area and gone several miles west without finding enemy forces, suggesting they had been shifted elsewhere. In the southern part of this sector, air reconnaissance showed the Reds using an underwater bridge on the Naktong with vehicles on both sides.

CHANKNYONG AREA, 23 miles southwest of Taegu—Saturday night artillery of the U. S. 24th Division broke up an attempt by the Reds to cross the Naktong in 16 boats. This is in the same sector where the Reds suffered another major defeat—rout of the North Korean Fourth Division's 12,000-man bridgehead by the U. S. 24th and the First Marine brigade.

CHINJU-MASAN SECTOR, Extending to within 27 air miles of Pusan—Early today a Communist company hit the left flank of the U. S. Fifth Regiment and forced back an outpost but the defenders repelled the attack. A Red force estimated at 15,000 in this area has been observed moving up tanks, suggesting a fullscale offensive may be in the making.

Three Killed In Denver Hotel Fire

DENVER, Aug. 26—(AP)—Three persons were killed and nine injured in a fire which swept through the second-story Denver hotel at 17th and Market streets early this morning.

Two men found dead in the hotel have been identified by Denver detectives as Short Gonzales, about 35, of Broomfield, Colo., and Harry Smith, 60. Smith's home is not known.

Vera Gregory of Denver died this afternoon of second and third degree burns.

Casualties In Korean War Are Well Over 100,000

TOKYO, Sunday, Aug. 27—(AP)—The nine-weeks-old Korean war has taken a toll of well over 100,000 killed, wounded or missing on both sides.

This is a rough estimate. Nothing official has come from North Korean Sources, and United Nations losses are not up to date.

The estimate could be broken down this way:

North Korean Losses — Frontline, 50,000; killed and wounded by straffing and bombing front, 20,000; losses among guerrillas and in sea actions, 10,000; civilians killed or wounded by long-range bombing attacks as announced by North Korean radio at Pyongyang, 11,582.

Allied Losses — American casualties (unofficial and estimated by several sources which cannot be named). more. than 5,000; South Korean battle losses, more than 20,000; South Korean civilians, large, but not possible to estimate.

Air Arm Of U. N. Forces Destroys 111 Tanks And Bombs Industries

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA, Sunday, Aug. 27—(AP)—South Korean units fighting along the East Coast were forced out of Kigye last night, an Eighth Army spokesman said today.

The South Koreans withdrew to a road junction a few miles south and East of the City which is 9 miles northwest of the port of Pohang, second ranking U. S. supply port in Korea.

On the coast north of Pohang, other South Korean troops withdrew two miles to a point one half mile south of Hunghae.

Hunghae is eight miles north of Pohang.

TOKYO, Sunday, Aug. 27—(AP)—North Koreans Reds captured Kigye Saturday night in a strong thrust and forced South Koreans to withdraw two miles or more on the northeast end of the battlefront.

But another Red penetration 13 miles northeast of Taegu has been wiped out. And near Changnyong, 23 miles southwest of that supply base, American artillery broke up an attempt to get 16 boatloads of Communists across the Naktong river.

These overnight developments were disclosed in a dispatch today by Associated Press correspondent Don Huth.

TOKYO, SUNDAY, Aug. 27— (AP) — North Korean Communists, beaten and bled in vain smashes at the central front, shifted their attack east Saturday and scored short gains against South Koreans on the rihgt costal flank of the United Nations beachhead in Korea.

In the center the Reds eased off after nearly a week of bloody but futile attacks down the "bowling alley" corridor from Kumhwa towards Taegu City, 12 miles south.

American officers said effectiveness of the three Red divisions which tried to seize the Taegu forward base had been "cut in half."

Taegu was safe for the present, the officers said.

Giving marked aid to the rebuff of the Reds north of Taegu was the air arm with low level attacks. Sunday, Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, Far Eastern air force commander, in a 60-day summary of air operations throughout the theater, said his planes made 20,500 sorties and had "severely crippled" the North Koreans.

Stratemeyer said FEAF planes definitely had destroyed 111 tanks and knocked out many others among a total of 600 tanks, armored cars and half tractors attacked. B-29 Superforts in that period dropped 11,500 tons of bombs, mostly on industries, rail and road bridges and marshalling yards.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.—I Timothy 3:11.

Sail forth into the sea of life,
O gentle, loving, trusting wife,
And safe from all adversity
Upon the bosom of that sea

Report From The Pentagon:

Korean Battle is Efficient War Game for Russia; Moscow Runs Show, Noth Koreans Are Cannon Fodder

SOVIET-MADE armored car, captured by South Korean troops near Suwan, gets critical scrutiny from U.S. Ordnance men.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— To U.S. military experts the Korean fighting is a bitter clinical test of Soviet vs American military strength—because American lives are being sacrificed.

To Russia's military experts it's an efficient, painless, highly instructive war game—because the North Koreans are acting as cannon fodder.

That's the galling fact that the top Pentagon planners are forced to admit.

A summary and analysis of Russia's part in the Korean war lead to one conclusion: just about all the North Koreans are contributing are bodies. Everything else—strategy, tactics, equipment, airplanes, orders, propaganda, psychological warfare—is strictly a Russian show.

The complete details of Russia's part in the Korean fighting have part in the Korean fighting have various secret classifications. They are under intensive study by American intelligence experts. But the obvious facts, and those details which have been revealed are enough to tell a convincing story.

First, although there has been scant Red air opposition it has all been by Russian planes.

Five types of enemy aircraft, totaling about 100 planes have been reported. They include the Yak-9, a fighter; the Yak-15, a jet fighter; the LA-7, a single-seat fighter; the IL-10, a two-engine attack plane; and the LI-2, a two-engine transport.

The ground story, of course, is all Russian.

Retired Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz recently revealed that "many units of the North Korean Forces received three or four years special training from the Russians."

It has been reported officially that from 10 to 20 Russian advisers are operating with each North Korean Division. That puts several Russian advisers with each NK battalion.

The previous training and the presence of Russian advisers are obvious in NK tactics.

The frontal, assault use of artillery is a Russian tradition. Racking up one division behind another and throwing them at the enemy in an attack regardless of casualties, as the North Koreans have done, is another Russian favorite. Use of underwater bridges, a Russian innovation, is being used most effectively by the Koreans. This requires on-the-scene Russian help, an expert claims.

What little NK equipment which has been captured has all been Russian, or Japanese stuff captured by the Russians and turned over to the North Koreans.

Such things include the famed Russian T-34 tank, armored vehicles, artillery, machine guns and other weapons.

The ammunition is all Russian-made, according to reliable reports.

Most dramatic proof of this was the unexploded, new-type Russian mortar shell, with a "made in 1950" date on it which U.S. forces captured. This was produced at a UN meeting in cold refutation of a Russian claim that the only Russian equipment in the hands of the North Koreans was given to them before 1948.

On the sea there has been no North Korean activity worth mentioning. But intelligence reports reveal that the Russians have been extremely efficient and active in observing the activities of the American Navy, in its supply role, in off-shore shelling and in the use of carrier air power.

It is reported that Russian subs watched every detail of the landing of the 1st Division at the port of Pohang.

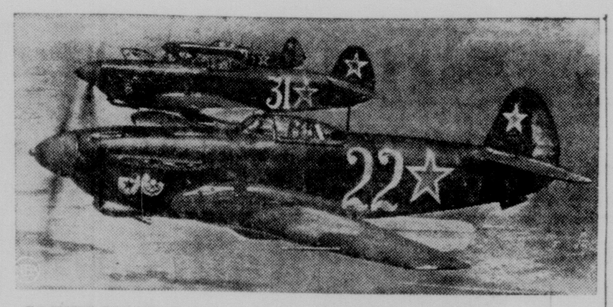

Secret reports tell of Russian sub observations in all of the waters around Korea. There is no question, one expert says, that the use of Navy and Marine air support against ground targets has been the subject of the most scrupulous study by the Reds. This is one weapon brand new to them.

In the field of propaganda and psychological warfare the Russian character of it has been as obvious as the Russian ground tactics. And its effectiveness is the result of 20 years of development.

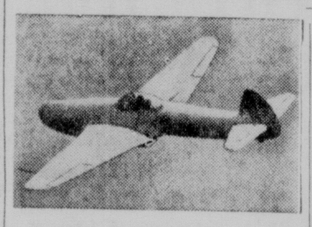

The one hope of the military planners is that the Korean fighting won't all have been to the advantage of the Russians in the way of lessons learned. They are confident that Uncle Sam will come off the bloody Korean battlefield with a few lessons tucked under his belt, too.

Mrs. Conner Couldn't Comb Hair—Neuritis Pains In Arm So Bad!

(Commonly called RHEUMATISM PAINS in this locality)

Wants others suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin to get same wonderful relief she did with HADACOL

Mrs. Martha Jane Conner,* Route 2, Rochelle, Georgia, is a most gracious, charming woman —and a generous one too, because she wants to share her good fortune with others. She writes:

"I am 54 years old and have been suffering with neuritis pains. After taking HADACOL I felt much better. I've taken one bottle and it has certainly done me much good.

"When I first started taking HADACOL I couldn't even comb my hair or use my left arm at all from the terrible pain. I couldn't do my washing. Since I started taking HADACOL, I did my washing and can now use my left arm as if nothing had been wrong with it. Thanks a million for making HADACOL. It is truly all you say it is."

Mrs. Conner is just one of thousands of very grateful HADACOL users who are reporting almost miraculous relief from the aches and pains of neuritis caused by such deficiencies.

Don't Be Satisfied With Temporary Relief

HADACOL is giving such amazingly wonderful results because it doesn't just give temporary relief. Instead, HADACOL treats THE CAUSE of your trouble due to such deficiencies in your system.

Continued use of HADACOL helps prevent such agonizing pains and aches from returning.

So take HADACOL daily to make sure you get more than your daily needs of important Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin and also helpful amounts of Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese — elements so vital to help maintain good health.

HADACOL is absolutely safe to take. It contains no dope or habit-forming ingredients. It's not a fast-acting pill that gives only temporary relief. It comes in a pleasant liquid form so that it's more quickly absorbed in the blood and treats the cause of your trouble due to such deficiencies. A remarkable improvement is often noticed after a few days' treatment!

And remember if your system is so deficient, there's no drug or medicine which will relieve this deficiency condition except the vital elements contained in HADACOL.

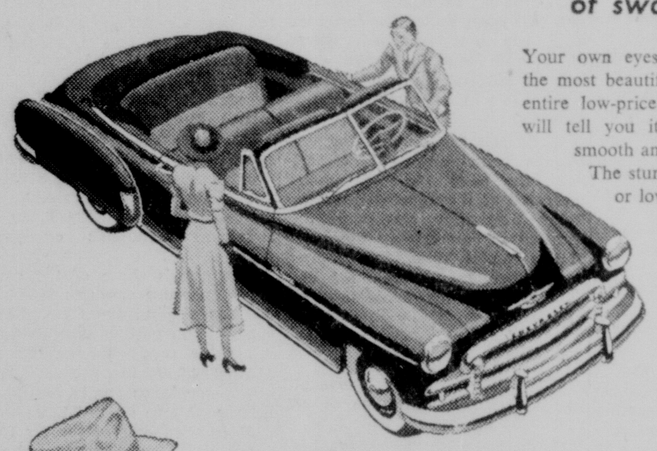

Sold on a strict money-back guarantee. HADACOL must help you or you get your money back. Trial size, only $1.19 Large family or hospital size, $3.39

Bandit Hunting by Air Taken Up Over Korean Areas

KOREA—(AP)—There is bandit-hunting in the air over Korea as well as on the ground. And the quarry isn't always Yaks (fast Russian-made fighter planes).

American artillerymen use Cub grasshopper planes to circle over the front lines and spot enemy field guns and tanks. And some believe the Reds have somehow managed to obtain a few Cub planes of their own which they paint with American markings and send up to pinpoint Allied batteries for their gunners.

This may sound fantastic but in war anything is possible and the Communist North Koreans have proved to be tricky as well as tough fighters—skilled at all kinds of camouflage.

One day by accident I went along on a trip trying to track down one of the enemy aerial false pretenders.

I was flying with Lt. Don A. Morgan, 27, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., over the Naktong river battlefront. We were in an unarmed T-6 "Mosquito" and our mission was to direct speedy fighter planes to enemy tank hideouts.

After Lt. Morgan had sent down two flights of fighters to their targets we suddenly got a new task. Heavy fire was falling intermittently behind our lines and the ground control officer called us on the radio.

I clamped on a headset and heard him say:

"Every time one of those Cubs flies over our battery we get some enemy rounds into our positions here. Can you check and see whether they have slipped a bandit in among our boys up there?"

"Roger," said Lt. Moran. "If there's one around we will find him for you."

He banked the Mosquito dizzily and we were off on our unusual sky quest. There were four Grasshoppers in the area, all widely-separated and swooping and fluttering about like wind blown butterflies. One by one, we stalked them, flying up until our wings were only a few feet away. It gave you a feeling that both planes were hanging motionless in the air from two strings. The propellers buzzed noisily but you had no sense of movement.

Exchange Greetings

In each case the Cubs held two men who looked at us first in startled wonder and then waved cheerfully. Morgan looked them over carefully until he was satisfied they were American. Then he waved back and we wheeled on to the next one.

The lieutenant was enjoying the chase and so was I until we started after the fourth Grasshopper. It was dipping and circling so much that I began to feel it was dodging us. And then I remembered that our own plane was unarmed.

We drew up even with the last plane but the pilot was looking the other way. Morgan edged nearer and I could see the suspicion on his features. Tiny icicles began to gather on my spine. What would we do if the other pilot was a North Korean?

Just then he turned and I found myself looking into the eyes of a carrot-topped youth with a freckled face split by a grin as wide as Texas.

Morgan waved and reported in to the ground control officer:

"All the Cubs up here look like ours. The last one only had one man in it but he is one of our boys—unless the Reds sent a Red with red hair and freckles."

"Roger and thanks," replied the ground control officer disappointedly.

When we landed I asked Morgan what he would have done if he had found one of the planes was a bandit.

"Oh, I could have opened my canopy and shot at him with my pistol," he said. "And if I could not get him that way we could have got behind him and rammed his rudder with our prop. That would knock him down."

The little icicles began to come out of my spine again at the thought of riding in a plane trying to saw another plane in half with its propeller. The ground felt warm and firm under my feet.

If I ever get mixed up in another aerial bandit hunt, I decided I want it to be in a B-36 bomber. It has six engines and lots of guns.

They aren't using any B-36 bombers in this theater. But I am in no hurry. I can wait.

Appears as Man Without Country

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 26—(AP)—R. P. P. ("Turk") Westerling, the former Dutch army officer who tried to overthrow the government of Indonesia, appeared Friday to be a man without a country.

Westerling, who led an abortive revolt in West Java last January, has been barred from his native Holland and denied entrance to Luxembourg, he can stay only temporarily in Belgium and provded he keeps out of politics.

Westerling came here by plane after he had been ordered out of Singapore for illegal entry.

The Indonesian government tried to get Westerling to try him on charges of murder and other crimes in connection with his short-lived revolt. British judges in Singapore refused to extradite him.

Russians Quit Broadcasting Weather Information;

By Fred Blumenthal

WASHINGTON. — The Russians abruptly stopped broadcasting weather information this week from their weather stations north of Korea. This apparently was done to hinder U.S. airmen, who had been using the Soviet weather broadcasts to help plan their raids. These Soviet stations are part of an international network which exchanges weather information in peacetime. However, the Russians apparently decided to help the North Koreans and put the weather stations under a wartime blackout.

Democrats Tangle

Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senate majority leader Scott Lucas of Illinois tangled hotly on the "adjournment" question at the big four leaders' meeting with President Truman this week.

Rayburn insisted that Congress should adjourn "sine die" when all emergency bills have been passed early next month. This would mean a complete shutdown until next January 3, barring a recall by the President.

"It would be better for the country if we adjourned and let things settle down," argued the speaker. "Also, the rest of the world would get the impression that we aren't fearful of a third world war."

However, Lucas strongly urged that Congress remain formally in session, but institute "three-day recesses" to give members of both Houses time to campaign.

"We are in an emergency and the country expects Congress to remain on the job," declared the Senate leader. "The recess plan would keep us on a standby basis."

"The House won't agree to anything but a sine die adjournment," Rayburn firmly insisted. The speaker didn't have to add that the reason his colleagues are itching to adjourn is because all House members have re-election campaigns, as compared with only a third of the Senate.

"This is something you will have to decide yourselves," the President said, adding that he could still recall Congress "within 24 hours" whether it adjourned sine die or invoked three-day recesses.

Washington Pipeline

President Truman will soon put all Pacific coast ports under wartime security. His authority is contained in the new law pushed through Congress by Senator Magnuson of Washington. . . . The Senate Agriculture committee is investigating a sub rosa oil deal, involving employees of the government-owned Farm Mortgage Corporation. A group of employees heard about oil on federal land, and quietly bought up the mineral rights from their own agency. . . . In spite of the lessons of the Berlin airlift, the Air Force was caught short of transport planes at the Korean outbreak. One reason was the opposition of the big airlines and the Civil Aeronautics Board. Exactly one month before the Korean invasion, the CAB told Congress that "the board believes the (bill) relating to the establishment of a government pool of cargo aircraft is unnecessary and undesirable at the present time." . . . The FBI has been tipped off that a meeting of mob leaders is scheduled in Cleveland next week. . . . The price of crude rubber has jumped 300 per cent since the Korean war. . . . D. Worth Clark, who nosed out Senator Glen Taylor for the Democratic senatorial nomination of Idaho, is almost sure to be knocked off by the Republicans. They have a recording of his last radio speech before the primary. He was supposed to speak 15 minutes, but lasted only four. The remaining time had to be filled in with music. . . . Prompt action by the Philippine government in sending troops into Korea has made a big hit with key Washington officials. Best U.S. investment in the Far East today would be broad-gauged economic aid to the Philippine people.

Splitting Hairs

Congressman Jack Anderson's bald head got involved the other day in a House hearing over whether free hospital care should be provided for servicemen's dependents.

Speaking for the American Medical Association, Dr. Walter Martin of Norfolk, Va., contended that such a medical aid program would be "discriminatory" against dependents who couldn't afford to travel long distances to government hospitals.

"That argument doesn't stand up," disagreed Anderson, a California Republican. "I pay the same taxes as a person who lives next door to a fire house, but he gets better protection."

"I think that is sort of splitting hairs . . . is it not?" snapped Dr. Martin.

Anderson ran a hand mournfully over his hairless dome and replied: "Doctor, I don't have any hair to split."

Doubtful Republican

Ohio's hefty Congressman Clarence Brown, a big noise in the Republican party, would just as soon see the Republicans lose the November elections.

"I am by no means sure it would be a good thing for the Republicans to win this fall," Brown told GOP intimates the other day. "It would commit us to a lot of responsibility without any of the authority of administration.

"It also might give Truman a perfect alibi in 1952 for any of his blunders, just as he blamed the Republicans in the 80th Congress. In fact, he got re-elected for that reason. We would be foolish if we jeopardized our opportunity in 1952 by taking over the legislative branch now.

"I think the Republicans will make some gains in this election," Brown added, "but I am not yet convinced it would be good for them to win control of Congress."

Legless Veterans

Several years back Congress appropriated funds to purchase automobiles for legless veterans, who find public transportation extremely difficult. Recently, however, the money ran out, and no provision has been made to buy automobiles for 150 remaining applicants approved by the Veterans Administration.

To make matters worse, no new bill has been passed by either the House or Senate to provide for an anticipated 500 service men and women who will be eligible for this assistance in the coming year. Ironically, these are the most seriously wounded cases, some of whom have spent six or seven years in veterans hospitals.

Kindly Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts has been demanding action in the House; so has Florida's Sen. Claude Pepper in the Senate. But congressional leaders are too busy with other things to rectify the tragic oversight.

"This is one of the things that must be passed before any congressional recess," Mrs. Rogers insists. "It's a debt that the United States government owes the boys. It will be a rank injustice if action is not taken."

Whether We Like It or Not, We'll Have to Rebuild Korea

By Bruce Biossat

Military victory in Korea won't end our problems there. It will merely give us new ones, in the political and economic sphere. Even though triumph in the field may be many months away we ought to waste no time in sketching out plans to meet the coming problems.

A look at Korea's economic condition is enough to make clear the size of our future difficulties there. Korea is a land where 21,000,000 people normally live close to starvation. Poverty is the rule, even without war.

But note what two months of war have done: Hundreds of villages have been leveled by fire and shell. Hundreds of thousands of farmers have been driven from their fields. Industrial plants have been bombed and looted. Transportation has been smashed. Except in the American-held sectors almost every bridge south of the 38th parallel has been knocked out.

With winter coming on, every coal mine is in enemy hands. When the mines are recovered they will undoubtedly be found stripped of their machinery. Virtually no wood is available for fuel (or for housing). Koreans are fishermen as well as farmers—great numbers of their fishing boats have been sunk. Oil tanks, warehouses, dock facilities and many other installations are gone.

We are in Korea to rescue the people from Soviet-inspired aggression. But reports indicate they nevertheless hold us responsible for the war damage and look to us to make it good when the conflict is over. This may sound ungrateful, but it's eminently practical.

Furthermore, there's precedent for such an attitude. At the end of World War II we put out more than $3 billion to rehabilitate the Philippines. Most of the damage had been done by U. S. forces in freeing the islands from Japanese control.

From Tokyo come signs we already are recognizing the magnitude of the Korean economic problems. ECA officials plan to ship thousands of tons of cereals to Korea in the next few months. They're requesting preliminary surveys of immediate relief needs. Informed guesses are that $200 million will be needed to meet pressing needs between now and next July. About $7,500,000 has been set aside to provide for spring rice planting.

Americans may feel like complaining—"Just another area for us to support. Aren't we doing enough for the world as it is?" Of course it's painful, this vast job of helping countries all over the world. But these are the burdens imposed by war and the threat of war.

Had there never been a World War II, the world would not have been so impoverished and prostrated as it has become in vast areas. Thus it would not be so ready a prey of communism. Anyone who has a realistic plan for averting these burdens undoubtedly would be welcomed in Washington's highest quarters. But in Korea as elsewhere there probably is none.

We can't save the Koreans from Soviet domination only to leave them a country in ruins. They must be given the substance out of which to build a future in freedom.

• So They Say

Rom. 15:13; Phil. 4:7; Col. 3:15; II Thess. 3:16

RELAXED IN SPIRIT

Dr. Alexis Carrel says, "No attempt has been made to create, in the midst of the agitation of the new city, islands of solitude, where meditation would be possible." Both the city and the home are impoverished without these "islands of solitude," hence a surface civilization and surface personalities are produced. As Kenneth Fearing says:

"And wow he died as wow he lived,
Going whop to the office, and blooie home to sleep and biff got married and bam had children and oof got fired
Zowie did he live and zowie did he die."

We must have these "islands of solitude," or we shall produce just such frantic personalities! In these "islands of solitude" the body can be relaxed and restored, as we have seen. But, deeper than the body, the spirit must be relaxed. As the body becomes tied up with physical tensions, so the soul becomes tied up in moral and spiritual tensions. These tensions of the soul are passed on to the body. No amount of techniques of bodily relaxation will avail if the tension is in the soul. Many modern techniques deal with the outworks and neglect the citadel. It is impossible to have a relaxed body if the mind and soul are full of conflict and tensions.

In Romans 12:2 (Moffatt) we read: "Instead of being molded to this world, have your mind renewed, and so be transformed in nature, able to make out what the will of God is." Note, "have your mind renewed, and so be transformed in nature." Evidently the renewed mind can renew the nature. The mind is the key. The mind decides what shall or shall not be the nature of your nature. It decides to what molding influences the inmost and the outmost nature shall be exposed. But the mind cannot be told to be calm and reassured and relaxed unless it rests in some assurance beyond itself. So its final calm is found in being "able to make out what the will of God is." It must ultimately acquire its poise and calm by linking itself to and having the backing of an eternal Purpose.

My Father, I see that I need all the techniques I can master; but in the ultimate analysis my surest technique is that which gives me alignment to Thy purposes and to Thy plans. I cannot be anything but frustrated if I am at cross-purposes with the universe. So I would be right with Thee in order to be right with myself. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Q. and A.

You and the Service

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the third of a question-and-answer series that tells how the Korean war affects reservists, veterans, draft-age men, and anyone likely to be called to service. The author, a member of the Washington staff of NEA Service, conducted a widely-read column on "Your GI Rights" in the months following World War II. He will answer questions only in this space, not by mail.)

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Q. I am in the Air National Guard. What are my chances of being called to active duty?

A. No call-up of Air National Guard units has been made. A few ground support groups, however, are expected to be put on active duty soon.

Q. When does a man apply for a deferment from the draft?

A. When a registrant fills out his quetionnaire, he may state in which classification he believes he should be placed. There is a space for that purpose. He may submit any other evidence he think applicable. He may also request a personal appearance before the local board, as may also his dependents or employer.

Q. I was a watch officer in the Navy at the end of the war and am still a reserve officer. What are my chances of being called to active duty?

A. So far the Navy has announced that it is calling up only specialists in a very few fields.

Q. Are men who have applied for aviation cadet training deferred from induction?

A. Yes, for a period of four months. However, the maximum number which may be deferred at any time is 3500 for the Air Force and 2000 for the Navy.

Q. Would you please explain the difference between an "exemption" and a "deferment?"

A. The terms are sometimes loosely used, causing confusion The word "exemption," properly used, applies to relief from obligation for service as specifically provided for by law, although not from registration. The word "deferment" indicates that the individual has an obligation to serve, but performance of the obligation is to be postponed or delayed so long as certain conditions continue to exist. It is the local board which decides whether the registrant is eligible for exemption or deferment.

Average Husband is Washout By All Soap Opera Standards

Radio soap operas, women's magazine fiction, and lending library love stories give women such a false picture of how a man behaves toward the woman he loves it's a wonder there aren't more dissatisfied wives than there are.

This fictitious husband who is held up as the answer to every woman's dreams seems to spend his life thinking in terms of his wife's happiness. He is sensitive to her moods, sympathetic when she is trying bravely to convince him that she doesn't need sympathy and that everything is really just dandy, and he is forever inventing little surprises calculated to make his wife say, "Roger, you darling."

The people who write the soap operas and the short stories and romantic novels beamed directly at women must know how women wish their men would treat them. For women lap up the stories and sigh over the heroes who are so unlike their own husbands.

Doesn't Happen In Real Life

But it's kind of a shame to make women believe that such husbands are to be had in this world.

When Mamie's own Joe in real life answers her need for a sympathetic ear by tuning in on the ball game a little louder, or is too busy earning a living for her to be spending his days thinking up little ways to surprise and please her, Mamie ought to know he's not an insensitive clod—he's just a typical husband.

But if she takes her soap operas and magazine stories seriously she is bound to wonder how she ever fell in love with such an unromantic, unfeeling, selfish lout.

No man knows what unreasonable competition he is up against unless he is acquainted with the husbands his wife meets through the radio, the lending library, and her woman's magazines.

THE STORY: A wave of dog poisonings causes high feeling in the small town where Doc Fortson, who tells the story, runs the leading pharmacy. Evidence points to Roger Blessen, a postman who is afraid of dogs, but Doc doesn't think Roger is guilty. Then one morning as Doc starts off to work he sees Roger talking to Tom Carson, blind insurance man. Suddenly Tom's seeing-eye dog staggers into a fall and goes into convulsions on the sidewalk.

* * *

VI

MISS MYRA SHARPE stood rigidly with the back of her hand pressed over her mouth. She was so tense that her angular figure looked more skinny than ever. Roger Blessen stood as if rooted to the ground. He was shaking so badly his mail sack joggled as it hung from his shoulder.

Tom Carson was frantically feeling for his seeing eye dog.

"What's the matter with Greta, Miss Myra? Tell me, Roger, what happened?" he pleaded. "Doc, is that you? Can't you help her? Do something."

No one else was doing anything, so I ran over to the dog. A single glance told me there was nothing I could do. Tom found the dog and his hands went quickly and gently over the animal's convulsed body. He stopped when he felt the shudders growing fainter and finally ceasing altogether.

Tom's unseeing eyes were blank, but the lines of his face sagged like an old man's.

"Not only Greta gone," he said in a dead voice as he straightened up, "my independence too. Without her I'm a helpless blind man tapping with a cane. What happened? Poison again, Doc?"

"Looks like it," I said. "Can't you get another Seeing Eye dog, Tom?"

Tom shrugged his shoulders. "They're expensive, but I'll have to." He turned on Roger then and his voice bit like acid. "You got even in a big way, didn't you? Killing a beautiful useful animal because she showed her teeth at you!"

"W-what do you mean?" Roger stuttered and laid his hand on Tom's arm. "I had nothing to do with—with what happened."

Roger stepped forward again, trying to convince Tom or possibly trying to help the blind man. But Tom Carson wanted no one to help him. He gave Roger a push, possibly harder than he meant to push, because Tom was angry.

Roger was not the most graceful person in the world and he went down. His mailbag spilled letters and small parcels all over the sidewalk.

* * *

TOM turned away from Roger contemptuously. "Miss Myra? I'll put Greta on your porch until I can send for her."

"Oh no, I don't want—I mean, wouldn't it be better to carry her around to the grass in the shade?" Miss Myra asked.

"All right, I'll carry her. You go ahead then and show me where to lay her." Tom stooped to pick up the big limp body of his dog and followed the sound of Miss Myra's footsteps.

Just before they turned the corner of the porch out of sight, we heard her say in an undertone that wasn't meant for our ears—only it's a funny thing, people usually talk loud to the blind as if they were deaf, too — "You mustn't blame Roger too much for poisoning your dog, Tom. He simply isn't responsible. He should be put away so he couldn't do such awful things."

Roger, still sprawled where Tom had pushed him, looked like he'd taken another shove. Then he sprang to his feet, his fists clenched ready to fight somebody. But there was only me standing in the middle of the spilled morning delivery. I began to pick it up, not saying anything.

When Roger could get the words out he said, "Tom believes I poisoned his dog? And what'd Miss Myra mean about me being not responsible?"

I tossed a small package addressed to Mrs. Muchmore from one hand to the other, wondering what to say to him. Finally I pitched the package into the mail bag and let him have the whole works. It seemed to me that it was time Roger knew what he was up against. I told him that the whole town believed he was systematically poisoning dogs, that he was not responsible for his actions because he'd had that head injury.

As always, Roger, the one concerned, was the last one to hear the talk. I never saw anyone get thunderstruck, but Roger looked the way I imagine thunderstruck people do. He hadn't heard any of it, not even about the poisoning of old lady Simpson's pug or Dr. Prentiss' bird dogs, or even Jimmy Joe's Spunky.

* * *

ROGER shouldered the mail bag when we got everything picked up and moved off on his route from force of habit. I trotted along beside him for a ways.

"So the town thinks I'm poisoning dogs because they nearly drive me crazy on my route? No, I forgot. I'm already crazy!" Roger's laugh was bitter. "Just a canicidal maniac!"

It seemed like a good time to find out if he knew why he was so afraid of dogs. I told him what I'd read about the smell of fear. Roger hadn't heard about that, but he knew why he was afraid. He pulled back his shirt collar to show me the scars on his throat. The white seams were faint and barely visible so I knew they'd been there a long time.

"When I was just a little kid," Roger said soberly, "a big dog nearly tore my throat out. Naturally, I was scared within an inch of my life. And I never got over it. I think now that if my mother had given me a cute fluffy puppy to play with I'd have forgotten the whole thing. But she didn't, and fool that I am, I didn't think about dogs being an occupational hazard for a mailman."

Music Modes

SEDALIA is unfortunate in having so many inferior acoustical halls and auditoriums. In the majority of them a single out of place queak from a clarinet bounces around the walls until five echoes come back to you.

An auditorium, such as the one at Smith Cotton high school has poor acoustics and usual hindrances also. The acoustics remain the most important since they are responsible for the effects obtained from orchestras, bands or what have you. In a sense, the acoustics are instruments themselves.

The chief purpose of an auditorium is to enable a large group of people to assemble and hear what occurs in it. The second purpose and just as important, of course, is for them to see what transpires.

We are in contact with acoustics every day, in churches, theaters, concert halls, lecture rooms, court rooms, offices, school rooms and auditoriums. They all depend on acoustics to some extent. If the acoustics in any of these places are deficient, the value of that room is considerably lessened.

Sedalia's musical participating groups are fully aware of the present circumstances and have often indulged in sharp criticisms. "What Sedalia needs is a big auditorium with good acoustics," is a comment heard frequently. It must be remembered, however, that a big auditorium without the proper acoustical treatment is virtually wasted, along with the thousands of dollars poured into its construction.

Perhaps the new "Little Theater" that has been proposed for Smith-Cotton will adequately provide for acoustical requirements.

The chief blame for an auditorium with poor acoustics rests upon those who supervise its construction. The architect's desire is to make the structure pleasing visually and he usually does so; but if the choice must be made between visual aspect and auditory effectiveness of the completed structure, the choice should be the latter.

Often a building is erected and an auditorium constructed without any consultation with those who understand acoustical phases of construction well enough to foretell the efficiency of the auditorium once it is completed. It is more or less like the baking of a cake; all the ingredients are put in and when the oven door is opened the result is either a flop or a minor success. If the latter be the case there are a few who are usually amazed that "things turned out so well."

There is a growing profession of Acoustical Engineers, and if Sedalia should ever have an auditorium let us all hope one of these art-having men can be found.

The importance of good acoustics can be understood from the following explanation from "Music A Science And An Art" by John Redfield.

"Let us say we have a speaker on the stage of a large auditorium. He, in the course of his lecture, repeats a syllable containing the sound 'k'. For the sake of experiment, let us say that "we are all situated in a single seat in the center of the auditorium. When the speaker pronounces the syllable with the sound 'k' the sound advances straight to us; but at the same time the sound flows in all directions. If the speaker is fifty feet distant the sound as it come straight to us will reach us in about .05 of a second. Now, it must be understood that the other directions in which the sound is traveling go beyond this fifty foot range and bounce off walls, the ceiling, curtains, etc. If the sound had to travel sixty feet it would take .06 of a second to reach our ears. Now with all of the sounds reaching us at the intervals, the 'k' sound in 'four score and seven years ago' would sound smeared and have the 'o' and then the 'r' smeared right afterward.

"Whether the auditorium is to be used for speaking, for singing, or for purely instrumental music, reverberation must be eliminated, and this will be accomplished when our knowledge and behavior of sound within enclosures has become sufficiently exact, and when auditoriums are designed not only for architectural beauty but for acoustical efficiency as well."

Police State They Will Crack Down

Clamps Will Be On Truck Owners Violating Law

The police have recently been lenient on truck drivers, who have not obeyed the recent ordinance passed in the city council concerning the parking of trucks over one and one half tons in the residential districts between sunset and sunrise, as is customary when a new city law is first being put into effect. Now, however, the law is almost a week old and the police have issued a statement saying that they will now start clamping down on those who violate this law.

Restrictions As Follows

The new ordinance provides the restrictions: that no truck over the weight of one and one half tons may park outside of the boundaries of Sixth street to Pacific street and from Kentucky to Lamine avenue except on Main street from Grand to Washington avenues.

The reason for these restrictions is because of the large number of collisions which have been caused on account of these large trucks being parked on side streets and also on through streets.

Enforce Others Too

Several other ordinances which have been in effect for some time are also to be more rigidly enforced, those being the laws concerning large transport and hauling trucks which double park on Ohio avenue and the problem of trucks over twenty feet long parking at the city parking meters. The first of these ordinances says that the deliveries to stores on Ohio shall be made in the rear or alleys of the stores or to some entrance where the large trucks will not block traffic. The other ordinance says that the large trucks or trailers over twenty feet long may park at the parking meters on the side streets, but that they must "plug" both meters which they cover.

All of these ordinances are going to be enforced to the limit and the official hope is to have much less congested and safer down town and residential districts.

Tells Police That Someone Stole Tent

Mrs. K. H. Eisert, 409 East Fifth street, reported to the police about 4:45 o'clock Friday afternoon that someone had stolen a surplus army tent from her backyard sometime Thursday night or in the early part of the morning.

She said that previous to this, possibly about three weeks ago, someone had also stolen a lawn mower from her yard. She asked that the officers check to see if they could find who had stolen the articles.

Many Children Become Separated From Their Parents

The State Highway Patrol office on the Fair grounds reported nearly 15 children were separated from their parents and lost in the fair crowds Thursday. They were brought to the patrol office and their parents were located.

The patrol announced that there have been several similar cases reported to them each day during the fair. The office requested, in an effort to eliminate these cases, that all families or groups make arrangements, prior to attending the fair, for a meeting place in the event they should be separated.

Discuss Cancer Control

Missouri Agencies in Field of Cancer Control Meet Together to Discuss Program—Representatives of the Missouri State Medical Assn., Missouri Division of Health and the Missouri Division of the American Cancer Society met in Jefferson City recently to discuss the cooperative program of cancer control in the state. Representatives of the three agencies shown above are, front row left to right, Dr. Buford G. Hamilton, Jefferson City, State Director of Health; Miss Maxine Hurley, Jefferson City, Cancer Nursing Consultant of the State Division of Health; Mrs. Edith Kirkendall, Birch Tree, member of the Executive Committee of the Missouri Division of the American Cancer Society; Mrs. Fred A. Thompson, Madison, member of the Executive Committee and Commander of the Field Army; Mr. Edgar M. Eagan, Jefferson City, Treasurer and member of the Executive Committee. Standing left to right, Robert E. Lee Hill, Columbia, State Campaign Chairman and member of Executive Committee; Robert L. Mack, Jefferson City, Executive Director for the Missouri Division; Dr. Everett D. Sugarbaker, Jefferson City, member of the Executive Committee and Vice President of the State organization; Dr. Edwin C. Ernst, St. Louis, member of the Executive Committee and President of the Missouri Division, American Cancer Society; Walter G. Staley, Mexico, Chairman of the State Committee of the American Cancer Society and Dr. W. A. Bloom, Fayette, President of the Missouri State Medical Association. Dr. William E. Leighton, St. Louis physician, also attended the meeting as a representative of the Executive Committee of the Missouri Division.

First Missouri State Election

(By State Historical Society of Missouri)

Missouri held its first state election, Monday, August 28, 1820. Campaigning began in May, and by June it was in full sway. Much importance was attached to the office of governor because of the powed of appointment vested in the executive. Candidates for the offices of supreme judges and the two United States senators made active campaigns, although the judges were to be chosen by the governor and the state senate and the senators by the general assembly. The office of representative in Congress was not subject to dispute because the majority favored the election of John Scott, the last territorial delegate from Missouri. At first the office of lieutenant governor was not much sought after, but several candidates appeared later.

William Clark, territorial governor, was urged to run for governor. His wife's illness prevented his entry at first, and the name of the territorial secretary, Frederick Bates, was advanced. When the name of Alexander McNair appeared before the public, howevre, the St. Louis caucus endorsed him at once, feeling he would be more amenable to their wishes and preferable to Bates. Caucus members sent out letters endorsing him until they found him independent of their wishes. They then switched to Clark, who had been persuaded to enter, and countermanded their McNair letters. Bates withdrew from the race.

No political parties existed in Missouri at this period, so the candidates worked directly for the support of the voters, the secret and open caucus and the popular meeting occupying the place later taken by the political parties. Each voter cast his vote after considering the men and their individual platforms. Voting was by ballot. The greatest interested centered around the governor's office, and 9229 votes were cast for the two candidates. This represented between 80 and 90 per cent of the voting population of the new State as compared with an average election poll today of around 60 per cent. McNair was elected governor, and General William H. Ashley, later a prominent fur trader, was chosen lieutenant governor. John Scott had no opposition for the office of representative.

Spring and early summer are the most likely times for tornadoes because of collisions of cold polar air and warm gulf air.

Missouri Quota of Reservists is 1038

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 26—(AP)—Missouri's quota of enlisted Army reservists under the nationwide call issued here will be 1,038.

Brig. Gen. Richard G. Tindall, chief of the Missouri military district, said that call is in addition to earlier recalls. He added that the 1,038 reservists will be summoned to active duty next month but that his instructions did not indicate when the men would be mustered in.

The new crop will represent unassigned enlisted reservists. No officers were included in the latest quota.

A spot in the Assam hills of India is said to have the heaviest rainfall on earth, totaling 50 or 60 feet a year.

Corn is the greatest crop of the United States. There are three bushels of corn grown for each bushel of wheat.

Not until 1918 did Harvard university admit women to any of its graduate schools.

Boy Scout Group Holds Session

The finance committee of the Lake of the Ozarks Council of the Boy Scouts of America met Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the Magnolia room of the Bothwell hotel to draw tentative plans for the 1951 budget. The meeting was presided over by Robert L. Hoy of Marshall the chairman of the committee.

The meeting was held with three committee members and the president of the Council, Charles M. Buckner of Marshall, present. The three committeemen present were: Ted Schmidt of Jefferson City head of the Cole finance district, Harry Naugel of Sedalia head of the Pettis finance district, and Raymond Hayob of Marshall head of the Saline finance district.

According to chairman Hoy the meeting was to set up an estimate of the money needed so that they can ask for it from various money making projects (such as the Community Chest) over the councils area. The council consists of the following counties: Benton, Camden, Cole, Gasconade, Maries, Miller, Moniteau, Morgan, Osage, Pettis, Saline and the town of Windsor. The total number of Boy Scouts in this area is now 1770 as compared with a total of 1399 for last year.

R. G. Miller the Scout Executive of the Lake of the Oarzks Council was also present at the meeting.

Two Collisions Friday Night

Two minor wrecks took place Friday aided by the slippery pavement, due to the rain, and the large crowds leaving the fairgrounds. The first wreck took place at Broadway and Harrison avenue at 5:05 o'clock when a 1935 Plymouth driven by Loretta Kanhnhoff 1221 Moniteau avenue ran into a 1950 Pontiac driven by E. A. Hess of Hartsburg. Minor damages resulted to both cars and no arrests were made or charges filed.

The second wreck took place at Broadway and Engineer avenue at 9:00 o'clock that night when a 1940 Oldsmobile driven by J. W. Dillon of Wright City ran into the rear of a 1949 Cadillac driven by E. C. Houx of Warrensburg. Minor damages resulted to both cars and Mrs. Ellen Houx received a slight back inquiry. No arrests were made.

Miss America Likely Be A Village Beauty

By James P. Hackett

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 26.—(AP)—There are more good-looking girls in small towns than in big cities.

And that's not because there are more small towns than there are big cities, either.

Proof of this beauty pudding is in the looking. It's getting on to Miss America time again and this year most of the entrants are from small towns.

Oh yes, there are some big city girls in the contest. As usual, 54 girls will compete in the Miss America pageant from Sept. 4 to Sept. 9. They'll represent 46 states (Rhode Island and West Virginia are missing); four cities, Washington, D. C., New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, and Canada, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

They will vie for the Miss America title won last year by Jacque Mercer of Phoenixville, Ariz. The winner will be dubbed "Miss America 1951" instead of "1950."

The change was made so the title would be up to date during the reign of the winner.

To get back to the small town beauty, here's a preview on some of the girls.

Did a girl from Cleveland or Cincinnati win the "Miss Ohio" title? No sir, it was 19-year-old Irene Farren of Grand River. How about Louisiana? New Orleans, you say. None. It's Rowena Taliaferro of Winnsboro who represents the state.

States Represented

Other girls representing their states come from Fitzgerald, Ga.; Burley, Idaho; Granite City, Ill.; Clarinda, Iowa; Wheelwright, Ky., Millinocket, Me.; Crete, Neb.; Ship Bottom, N. J.; Monmouth, Ore.; Provo, Utah; and Des Moines, Wash., to mention some.

Some of the big cities with state contestants are Boston, Baltimore, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Dallas and Memphis.

One girl went a long way to get into the Miss America contest. She's Maxine Cothern, born in Portales, New Mexico, 23 years ago. She attended Graceland college at Lamoni, Iowa, and will come to the pageant from Fairbanks, Alaska, as that territory's first competitor.

Miss Cothern told pageant officials she would like to study handicraft at Penland, N. C., if she wins a scholarship. There is a $25,000 jackpot in scholarships for contest winners. Miss America gets a $5,000 scholarship. The other $20,000 is distributed among 14 runners-up.

Girls eligible for the pageant must be between 18 and 25 years of age. The two oldest girls in the contest are Tosca Masini, "Miss Nevada" and Annie Roberts, "Miss Mississippi," each 24. Miss Roberts just about made it because she'll be 25 on Nov. 1. She's a faculty member at Jones county, Miss., junior college, where she teaches voice.

Of the first 45 girls selected to compete there are 24 brunettes, 16 blondes, four black-haired and one red-haired.

The tallest girl in the group is Jeanne Traun of Minneapolis, representing Minnesota. Miss Traun is five feet, nine inches tall, weighing 137 pounds. The Misses Texas and Tennessee are the shortest, each five feet, two inches in height, each weighing 106 pounds.

Jeanne Crain portrays the most dramatic role of her career in "Pinky" which co-stars her with Ethel Barrymore, Ethel Waters and William Lundigan. Co-hit of the program is Gene Autry's latest hit, "Cowtown." This program plays today thru Tuesday at the Uptown Theatre.

LISTEN! by Jim Carson

Labor Day is just a week away, and we're rapidly approaching the fall season. This week marks the return to the air of a number of your favorite KMBC programs.

The delightful teen-age comedy, "Meet Corliss Archer," returns to the air tonight at 7:30. And Corliss will continue to perplex boy-friend Dexter and her long-suffering parents in this amusing family comedy.

Three outstanding shows return to the air Monday night. At 7:30 "Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts" will be back giving new talent a chance for success. "Radio Theater" opens the fall season at 8 o'clock with Cary Grant and Ann Sheridan starring in the romantic comedy, "I Was A Male War Bride." The dizzy blond Irma and her friend Jane will return from their vacations at 9 o'clock Monday for a new season of zany antics for "My Friend Irma."

For a morning weekday treat, we'd like to invite you to tune in for "Rhymaline Time." Music, comedy and rhymes highlight this gay 45-minute show. Emcee David Andrews, The Tune Chasers, and piano-playing Harry Jenks join together to help start your day off with a smile. We hope you'll listen in Monday through Saturday at 7:30.

Monday, six popular 5-a-week shows resume on KMBC. At 2:30 Art Linkletter brings back the riotous audience-participation program, "House Party." Cedric Adams renews his five minutes of lively comments at 2:55. Lowell Thomas, soon to celebrate his twentieth year of broadcasting, starts his popular Monday through Friday newscasts at 5:45.

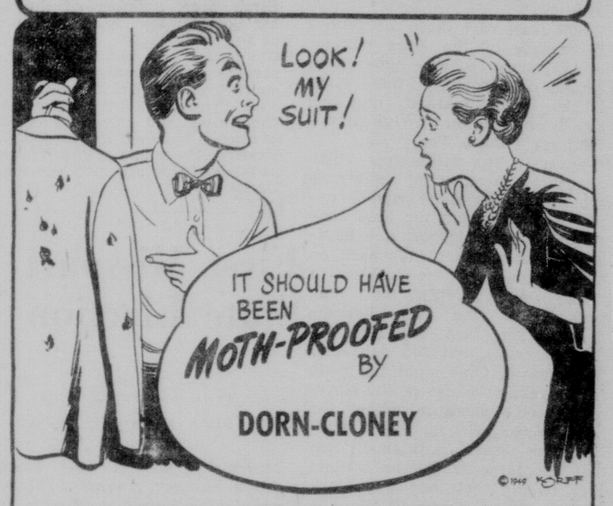

"Club 15" also returns Monday at 6:30 with Bob Crosby, The Andrew Sisters and Jo Stafford, for a full season of musical hits. At 10 o'clock the comedy queen of the kitchen, "Beulah," will be back with a new campaign to trap the elusive Bill for a husband.

Then, to round out the return of the weekday shows, Jack Smith will be heard at 10:15 with Dinah Shore and Margaret Whiting sharing the vocal spotlight.

Farm Director Phil Evans packs a lot of information into his farm service programs. And he knows his business, for he's managed the KMBC-KFRM Service Farm for the past eleven years. Phil starts off the day with the "Early Morning Farm Chat" at 6:45 each weekday. During the noon-hour he presents a program of interest to all stockmen, the "Feed Lot Chat." Phil reports up-to-the-minute Grain and Produce market quotations at 9:55 a. m., 12:55 p.m. and 1:30 p. m. each week-day. On Saturday at 12:30, Phil presents a new 10-minute feature entitled "This Livestock Business," a general commentary and forecast of special interest in this area.

The true, documented adventures of "The F.B.I. In Peace and War" will return to KMBC at 7 p. m. Thursday. Also returning on Thursday night is "Suspense" at 8 o'clock, starring Pat O'Brien in a thriller titled, "True Report." Friday night of this week the ad lib king Bob Hawk will be back on the air with his popular comedy-quiz show at 7 o'clock.

Aristocratic Folk Live In Great Smokies Mountains

By Bem Price

GATLINBURG, Tenn., Aug. 26—(AP)—This business of fiddlin', feudin', fightin', barefoot, tobacco-chewing hill-billies is 90 per cent pure hokum.

Deep in the hazy mountains of the great smokies of the southern Appalachians lives an aristocratic folk with an ancient and honorable way of life.

They live in the abiding peace of the silent hills. And how can you laugh at peace?

How can you laugh at dignified folk living in the abundant satisfaction of self-sufficiency; of containing within themselves all their needs to meet a workaday world and for song, dance and art besides?

If you laugh, you are laughing at a people who live not too far from Oak Ridge, Tenn., where the atom bomb is made, but who still think of uranium as a pottery glaze.

Come to the hills and see for yourself. Others have. They have come from all over the world to study and fall in love with these folk who count their ancestry in direct line back for two centuries and more.

Better still, come next year during the craftsman's fair when these folk come down from the mountains bringing with them their tools, their lore and their skills.

They come at the behest of the Southern Highland Handicraft Guild and the Southern Highlanders, Inc., non-profit groups concerned with the preservation of the mountain way of life.

Talents Into Income

Through these organizations the hill folk have turned their native talents into income with which to send their children to school.

Maybe Matt Owenby will be back with his "boom and treadle" lathe, one of two left in the mountains, three hundred years ago, the type was found all over Europe. It's a lathe powered by the natural spring of a sapling. Owenby uses it to turn chair legs.

After extending the sapling over a rod like a see-saw and wrapping the wood billet to be turned with a leather thong attached to a pedal, he pushes down. The billet turns. The sapling springs back and the billet turns again.

Maybe Jean Ritchie, 23, the youngest of the 14 children in the "singin'est family in the hills" will return with her dulcimer. Nowhere else is the dulcimer played. A three-stringed instrument for which no music is written, it is played by plucking while holding a hollow reed over one of the strings.

Songs Plaintive and Gay

The songs Jean sings were brought into the hills with the Ritchies of 1768, plaintive songs, gay songs, love songs and lullabys. From Scotland, Ireland and England they were drawn and they are in the language of the Eighteenth century.

Miss Ritchie will tell you of the "play songs," developed by an ingenious folk to get around the ban on dancing.

If there was music it was dancing and dancing was sinful, but if the youngsters just gathered in a circle and sang, why then that was just fun.

Then, too, those are the boys who do the Morris dance with sticks in their hands and bells on their knees. It is strictly for men and rugged. Just where the dance started is problematical. Some think it can be traced backed to the ancient sun dances of the Indians.

If she's still living, Mrs. Grover Conley may be back with her sunbonnet and spinning wheel, telling of the days when camel's hair and chicken feathers could be spun into a beautiful fabric.

Fire Companies Called

An electric motor on a refrigerator became stuck at the Pirtle-Evans grocery, 118 East Main street, shortly before 3:00 o'clock Saturday morning and caused a considerable smoke in the store. Both fire companies answered the alarm. Slight damage resulted.

X-Raying Selectees

Dr. R. W. Foust, prominent Omaha, Nebr., physician has earned an average of $450 a day x-raying selectees and recruits at Omaha, according to reports by Fifth Army headquarters. Dr. Foust said he had no cause for comment, but added that he was making less money than the army reported. (NEA Telephoto)

Information On Labor Act

KANSAS CITY—A new amendment to the Fair Labor Standards Act makes it illegal to hire children under 16 in farm work during hours school is in session in the district where they are living at the time of such employment, Walter W. King said today.

King is regional director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions.

"This change in the law does not apply to children working on their parents' farm," Kink said. "And the new provision does not apply to employment of children in agriculture during school vacations, after school hours, or on holidays."

An Example

It does apply to work on crops which are shipped in interstate commerce or to work on crops that will be manufactured into other goods which move into interstate commerce, he pointed out.

"For example," King said, "suppose a farmer intends to sell his potatoes to a local dealer, who, in turn, will ship them outside the state, or who will make then into potato chips for shipment outside the state. In that case the child labor provision would apply and all workers who helped to harvest that crop while school is in session in their district where they live must be at least 16 years old."

To protect themselves against inadvertent violation of the law, farmers who hire young workers should keep on file age certificates for each child, he said.

The funeral service will be held at 2:00 o'clock this afternoon at the Moniteau Evangelical and Reformed church followed by burial in the church's cemetery near the place where he was born. The body was taken to the Wilson funeral home in California.

Injured When Car Skidded Into Ditch

Miss Dorothy Jean Draper, 17, Kansas City, received a fractured collar bone, about 8:45 o'clock Friday night when the 1927 Ford coach, driven by Manfred Haney, Kansas City, skidded into a ditch about a mile west of Dresden. Another car a 1941 Oldsmobile sedan driven by Don Sanders, Warrensburg, also went into the ditch.

Haney was headed east on the blacktop road and started around a truck when he saw the Sanders car approaching. The drivers of both automobiles in endeavoring to avoid a collision turned their cars into a ditch.

A third automobile approached the scene, and the driver applied his brakes suddenly causing the car to skid around and "flip-over" on its top. The name of the driver was not obtained.

All three automobiles although they never collided were badly damaged.

The state highway patrol made an investigation.

Kills Red Head When She Bit His Tongue

NEW YORK, Aug. 26—(AP)—A student was quoted by authorities today as saying he killed attractive, red-haired Mrs. Theresa Maguire in a Queens "lovers lane" because she bit his tounge.

Police said Steven Albert, 23, told them he met 34-year-old Mrs. Maguire in a bar, and later beat her to death with a rock in a lonely area near the Aqueduct horse race track.

"When we were kissing," Albert was quoted, "she clamped down hard with her teeth on my tongue.

"I saw red. I hit her hard so she would let go. She did, but my tongue still hurt terribly, so I picked up a rock and kept hitting her."

The victim's body, nude from the waist up, was found yesterday lying on a red dress in a clump of bushes. A yellow jacket was draped over her legs.

Police said they learned that Mrs. Maguire, the mother of a young daughter, met young Albert in a Richmond Hill bar after she had spent the early part of the night on a bar-to-bar drinking party with a girl friend.

Albert, a television school student and navy veteran, had been arrested on the basis of information obtained at the bar. He was held on homicide charges.

Charles Matthews Dies

Charles Matthews, 73 years old, died at his home in LaMonte at 11:00 o'clock Saturday night.

The body was taken to the Parker funeral home there.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Martha Baskett

Mrs. Martha Baskett, 92 years old, formerly of Bunceton, died at her home in Los Angeles, Calif., Monday morning August 21.

Mrs. Baskett was born in slavery on March 2, 1855 the daughter of Edward Howard and Ann Corbin of Cooper county.

She was married in 1878 to Jerry Baskett who preceded her in death in 1941.

Surviving her is one son, Emmet of Kansas City, two daughters, Mrs. Katie Hanger and Mrs. Madeline Bradley both of Los Angeles, Calif., six grand children and one great-grandchild, and one brother, Robert of Bunceton.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at the Mt. Zion church near Bunceton, where Mrs. Baskett was a church member, with Rev. L. D. Hardiman of Sedalia officiating. The body will arrive in Tipton early this morning where it will be taken to the Richards funeral home.

Burial will be in the Mt. Zion cemetery.

Palmer Nichols Chief Booster

Palmer R. Nichols has been elected Chief Booster of the Missouri Pacific Booster Club, effective September 1st. Nichols succeeds F. G. Rose, who has been Chief Booster for the past eight years. During that time the Boosters have been active in many civic affairs and have gained many friends through their activities.

Palmer Nichols

Other officers elected were Jack Lobaugh assistant chief booster; Adolph Scott, secretary; W. A. Spraggins, shop editor. Members of the executive board Charles Keller, C. R. Lutgen, Lee Garrison, Joe Toler, A. B. Case, Dave Bell, Paul Berthouex, R. S. Woolery and H. L. Williams.

Nichols served as Chief Booster from 1935 until 1941 and has been active in booster affairs and Missouri Pacific events since completing his term of office.

Plans are under way for a complete reorganization of the club and a meeting of the board will be held next week to complete the formation of the program for the coming year, which will include the cooperation with all of the civic clubs in Sedalia and vicinity.

Junior Swine Awards

(Vocational Agricultural FFA)

High School vocational agriculture boys from forty school chapters, showing at the 1950 Missouri State Fair had 380 head of swine including a pen of three Chester White barrows that were given the reserve championship in the open show by Prof. L. A. Weaver, judge of the market hogs. These pigs were owned by Donald Arp, Brunswick, Mo. Carl Wise of the same chapter had the reserve champion of the junior barrow show and received 80c per pound for his 250-pound Poland China.

The champion, also a Poland China, owned by Raymond D. Kahrs, Smithton 4-H boy, brought $2.00 per pound at the Thursday night auction in front of the grand stand, which was a record price for these annual State Fair sales. Col. Ray Sims, Belton, Mo., a former F. F. A. member, was the auctioneer.

Wendell Holman, superintendent of the Junior Department of the Sedalia Fair, was well pleased with the good increase in numbers this year. Carl Humphrey, Jefferson City, supervisor of vocational F. F. A. exhibits, stated that total animal entries this year were 636 as compared to 426 last year. These included beef, sheep, dairy cattle and fat steers.

Infant Is Named Donna Marie McNamara

Donna Marie is the name given the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. McNamara, Jr., of Kansas City, born in that city on August 11.

Korean Reds Again Thwarted Near Taegu Shift To East Coast

corridor may have marked the final critical test for the allies.

It was the third major crisis weathered successfully by the defenders since they withdrew behind the Naktong river line Aug. 4, and it may prove to be the last, Huth said.

More defensive battles may come, and more short withdrawals may be necessary to stabilize the lines, Huth said, but the days of desperate shifting of allied troops to stop leaks appear to be over.

The enemy can be counted on to keep probing for weak spots.

However in the latest such attempt, two Red divisions, with possibly a third, made some unspecified short gains Saturday in the Pohang-Kigye sector, where the South Korean capital and third divisions hold a line which runs east to the sea of Japan.

The Pohang-Kigye assault had been anticipated after South Korean troops had launched an offensive with initial gains and then had encountered firmly dug-in Red positions. The Republican drive bogged down, then the Reds started their push.

While the Reds were moving forward, American aircraft began plastering them in the fashion that has proven so helpful to allied ground troops—direct close ground air support, which in early days of the war was not as well coordinated as it is now.

Three Pronged Drive

General MacArthur's summary early Sunday gave no estimate of the number of Reds making a three-pronged drive over a 15-mile area against the South Korean forces in the east between Kigye and Pohang.

Forces of the Fifth and 12th Communist divisions were staging the attack. The Red tenth division was reported in reserve.

The summary said Red artillery and mortar fire rocked back the South Korean Second Corps from 2,000 to 3,000 yards, but it did not pinpoint the location northeast of Taegu.

It also reported strong pressure by a spearhead of 20,000 men against the South Korean Eighth division in the northern sector, but said latest reports indicated the defense line was holding.

Field dispatches, evidently later than the headquarters data, placed this fighting in the Chongno area, 24 miles north of Taegu, and said the South Koreans had regained the lost ground late Saturday.

AP correspondent Tom Lambert reported from that front that the South Koreans secured high ground, reoccupied the village of Chongpyong, and went forward generally without much difficulty in straightening out what could be a vulnerable allied salient.

Northwest of Taegu, MacArthur's release said, patrols attempting to cross to the enemy west bank of the Naktong river in the U. S. First Cavalry division sector met strong enemy resistance.

Still farther south, at an unspecified location, air observers reported the Reds had an underwater bridge in operation, with vehicles on both side of the Naktong.

Down on the southwest front, where the Reds are nearest to Pusan, American Negro troops fighting shoulder to shoulder with South Korean infantrymen battled successfully to secure the last bloodstained ground on the ridge and below battle mountain.

Forty-eight Annual Missouri State Fair Will Close Tonight

of America chapters and County 4-H club groups, showing livestock at the Missouri State Fair were presented to the Norborne F. F. A. Chapter and Pettis County 4-H Clubbers. Norborne was last years Future Farmers winner. Jackson county was the 1949 4-H winner of this high honor. Similar scoring was used to award the special "Jim Kem" livestock trophies offered annually by Senator James P. Kem. The winners of the prizes offered by Gov. Forrest Smith were also awarded the large handsome engraved trophies furnished by the Missouri senator.

Both awards are offered with the purpose of stimulating better and more livestock production by the junior age boys and girls of Missouri.

Pettis county, under the leadership of Bryan Phifer, assistant to County Agent, Roy I. Coplen, extension agent of Sedalia, had exhibits of fat steers, breeding beef and dairy heifers and swine. The Norborne F. F. A. school group had ten boys showing sixty four hogs of five breeds, eleven baby beeves, twenty-eight sheep of three breeds to total over 100 head of well bred well fitted animals.

Aurora F. F. A. showing for the first time scored only a few points below the winners and Brunswick future farmers had an exceptional exhibit that was a heavy winner in Swine. Carl Armentrout is the Norborne F. F. A. adviser.

Polled Shorthorn Beef Awards

Lewis W. Thieman, Concordia, Misouri, took all Championships in the 1950 Missouri State Fair polled Shorthorn show. Coronet Max Juggler 5th, a summer yearling, was the top bull and Coronet Max Juggler 3rd a junior yearling, was reserve champion.

Lustre Coronita 11th, Junior yearling heifer, was champion female and Happiness Corineta 3rd, a Senior calf, was named Reserve by Roy E. Horton, Princeton, Ill., judge of the show.

Dan E. Miller, Fayette, was superintendent of the Beef Department, assisted by Elmer Arnsperger, Salisbury.

Jersey Dairy Cattle Awards

The 1950 Missouri State Fair Jersey show was average in numbers and high in quality. Calf classes were well filled, due to a much improved junior show that tried the open competition. L. O. Coleback, Knoxville, Tenn., judged the exhibit.

Knoxville Jersey Farm, Sandie, Texas, took both Grand Championships and was a strong winner. Olen Monsees Smithton, assisted by Harry Ball, Columbia, were in charge of the dairy department.

Guernsey Dairy Cattle

The 1950 Missouri State Fair Guernsey show was one of the top exhibits of the dairy department. Quality was high and uniform throughout most all classes. In numbers the show was about the same as the past two years, according to Olen Monsees, Smithton, superintendent. Harry Ball, Columbia, his assistant, pronounced the exhibit very good. L. O. Colebank, Knoxville, Tennessee, judged the exhibit.

Hampshire Swine Show

The 1950 Missouri State Fair Hampshire Swine show was a top contest in all respects. The quality wah pronounced excellent and rather uniform throughout according to H. D. Elijah, Oklahoma City, Okla., who tried the show.

Pig classes numbering around fifty head slowed down the contest which was witnessed by visitors that filled the seats and ringside of the pavilion.

Ernest Hanebaun, Carrollton, is Superintendent of the Swine Department.

Reports Watch Stolen

Herbert Sands, 501 East Harvey street, reported to the police Saturday afternoon about 3:00 o'clock that someone had stolen his 21 jewel Hamilton pocket watch out of his pocket. He asked the officers to investigate.

Israeli Vegetables Mean Dollars

TEL AVIV, Israel—(AP)—Israelis say canned vegetables are worth "their weight in gold"—and the gold they want is more foreign money. A canning factory at Raanana reported it had received large orders from abroad and had boosted its employment schedule to two shifts of 140 workers to prepare shipments.

The factory already has shipped 18,000 cans of cabbage and 40,000 cans of cucumbers to England. Israeli steamers are to transport 100,000 cans of Israeli cucumbers to the United States.

Plans for His Third War

LONDON —(AP)— Edwin Bell, 74, has joined Britain's Civil Defense Corps and begun a refresher course showing air raid wardens how to deal with atom bombs.

He's getting ready for his third war. He was senior air raid warden at suburban Wimbledon during the Nazi blitz and headed a group of volunteer wardens in London during the Zeppelin raids in World War I.

British Are Making Tools For Russians

Winston Churchill Says They Can Be Used to Repair Tanks

By Glenn Williams

LONDON, Aug. 26—(AP)—Winston Churchill declared tonight that a British factory is turning out tools for the Russians suitable for the repair of tanks. The ministry of supply quickly conceded that several British machine tool manufacturers are turning out products for Russia.

Churchill said Russian inspectors are admitted into the plant. A ministry of supply spokesman said this was true in all the plants engaged in making tools for the Russians.

"Getting Worse"

"Fancy going on like this while everything is getting worse, and when we are literally begging the United States for aid in every form," Churchill asserted. The charge came in a political broadcast in which he accused the Labor government of "infirmity and disconnection of thought and action in shaping defense plans."

He based his statement on information from officials of one of the tool manufacturing plants.

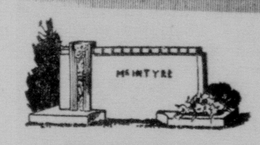

The United States has banned a long list of strategic materials from shipment to Russia and her satellites. The same ban has been applied to nations receiving United States aid.

American Molybdenum to Russia

The United States this week revealed that a British firm transshipped 50 tons of American molybdenum—a bright metal used for hardening steel—to Russia. Another 150 tons scheduled for shipment here was stopped.

The British board of trade asserted the deal was legal but admitted "the United States government is investigating this case."

A spokesman for the board of trade said Britain applies strict export controls and has drawn up its own blacklist of strategic materials for shipment to Communist countries.

Soldiers Try To Keep UP On Home Habits

By Hal Boyle

KOREA —(AP)— It takes more than a war in Korea to make the American soldier give up the habits of home.

In a strange land of strange customs he tries in small ways to live the way he always has. Sometimes this effort is ludicrous. Sometimes it is bad. But always it is stubborn. For even on a battlefront the Yank insists on making his life as normal as he can.

So far I haven't heard any soldier say he was over here fighting for his children's right to eat good old Grandmom's good old blueberry pie—or to protect his favorite brand of toothpaste from Communist infiltration. But the Army hasn't made the mistake it did in the early part of the second world war—that of foisting off on the combat troops unkown brands of cigarets and chewing gum.

The infantry then raised a fair and proper howl over that. The Doughboys thought it only reasonable that if they had to suffer in foreign territory they should enjoy familiar cigarets—and let the civilians who were enjoying the familiar landmarks of home suffer the unfamiliar cigarets.

And the glory of the folks at home was that most agreed with them. But war is war and the quartermaster corps isn't quite as efficient or as well stocked as the corner drugstore.

As late as the day Hitler did himself in a GI in Germany could rip open a K combat ration and still pull out a packet of four cigarets that were not nearly as unknown to him as the meaning of a German verb.

But that hasn't happened in Korea to my knowledge. The soldiers here might not be issued every day a pack of their favorite smokes. But it is sure to be one of the better known brands.

It is the same way with chewing gum, shaving cream, candy and toilet articles. Wherever the Army or Air Force post exchanges have these articles in stock, they are usually familiar, popular, advertised brands. This is even true of snuff and razor blades. You would be surprised how many middleaged sergeants in this still largely professional army use snuff.

And most soldiers remember the mysterious razor blades of the last war that would nick a pimple but wouldn't cut a beard except under pressure that also removed the top layer of a man's face. The razor blades sold or given to the troops now have to cut. They are guaranteed to take off whiskers—and they have been guaranteed for years.

They aren't made by fly-by-night concerns that grabbed a quick Army contract and reaped a quick profit knowing they wouldn't be in business in post-war years.

This preference of the Army to buy name products is a real morale factor. It may be possible only because this is yet a small war. It does penalize the new and often enterprising manufacturer who may have an even better product to offer. But it makes the soldier feel good to know that he can get here the things he used at home. It makes him feel that he is still thought to be as important as the civilian whose standards he is protecting.

There is one type of soldier, however, who is being discriminated against. That is the cigar smoker. The Army isn't taking care of him. I know because I am a cigar man myself. A real cigar man would almost rather attack a machinegun nest than smoke a cigaret in compromise.

It was that way in the last war and it is that way in this one.

We treasure cigars and pass them around almost as tenderly as if they were letters from home.

General Grant had cigars in the Civil War. Why can't we catch up to his supply line in this war?

Gives a Recipe On Shirred Eggs

Mrs. Lillian Davis, R. 1, Green Ridge, Missouri, has an original recipe for "Shirred Eggs" in the September issue of Capper's Farmer.

Mrs. Davis' recipe appears in "Country Cooking," a regular department in the nationally circulated farm magazine. Her ingredients are 2 tbsp. butter; 2 tbsp. flour; 1 c. milk; 6 eggs; 6 tbsp. grated cheese; salt.

Here is her procedure: Melt butter in top of double boiler and stir in flour. Add milk and cook until slightly thickened. Divide mixture among 6 oiled custard cups and break an egg into each. Salt and sprinkle with grated cheese. Make in 350° oven.

Mrs. Laura Norris, 1325 A South 6th St., St. Louis, Mo., says doing the family washing and housework is no longer a chore. She says she can do her work in a breeze now. She thanks wonderful HADACOL for her feeling of well being. She had deficiencies of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Niacin, and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Norris' exact statement: "It was such a long time since I was feeling 'OK.' I had been very nervous and my nerves were so bad it affected my stomach—seems like it was tied in a knot all the time. Couldn't sleep either—just roll and toss all night. I coudn't hardly do my housework — and I was always cross and irritable. One day I heard about how other folks were being helped by HADACOL. I tried HADACOL and after the 2nd bottle I began to feel better. Now my nerves are steady as can be—no more ill effect on my stomach—I sleep like a top—in fact, I feel wonderful, thanks to marvelous HADACOL."

Yes, HADACOL Is Marvelous

in the way it has helped thousands of folks whose systems were deficient in Vitamin B-1, B-2, Iron, and Niacin. HADACOL can help you, too, if you have such deficiencies if you will just give HADACOL a chance. If you are suffering from nervousness, insomnia, or a general rundown condition, caused by such deficiencies, let HADACOL help you as it has helped others all over the counttry.

Many Doctors Recommend HADACOL

HADACOL is that wonderful new produce recommended by many doctors. It is not a quick-acting product which gives only symptomatic relief — HADACOL is so successful becausc it relieves the real cause of stomach disturbances and a general rundown nervous condition when caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Iron, and Niacin. So if you're troubled this way, don't keep on putting off relieving the real cause of your trouble. Remarkable improvements are often noticed within a short time.

Get That Wonderful HADACOL Feeling

The great advantage in taking HADACOL is that continued use of this great product helps prevent such stomach misery and nervousness from coming back to torture you. Know what it means to enjoy that wonderful, wonderful HADACOL feeling!

You'll have to admit anyone suffering such deficiencies is very foolish and deserves no sympathy if he or she continues to suffer such sleeplessness, nervousness and stomach disorder when relief may be near at hand at any drugstore. Go right now to, or telephone, your nearest druggist for HADACOL. Start taking it today. Trial-size bottle costs only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There is only the one true and genuine HADACOL which everyone is talking about.

Williams, 306 East Second street, at 9:00 o'clock Thursday night at the home of the bridegroom's parents. The Rev. Walter P. Arnold, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist church read the double ring ceremony in the presence of 35 guests.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Lillian Fox at the piano played "Song To the Evening Star" by Wagner. As Miss Jackie Janney, of Kansas City, cousin of the bride, wearing yellow organdy with accessories of white, lighted the candles, Miss Fox played "I'll Walk Beside You" by Murray.

For the processional Miss Fox played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin by Wagner; "Libestraume" by Liszt during the ceremony and as the recessional, Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

The bride, whose uncle, Mr. Jack Janney, of Kansas City, gave her in marriage, chose for her wedding a gown of ballenirr length fashioned of white eyelet embroidery over white nylon. Her waist length veil fell from a head circlet and she carried a white Bible to which was attached white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. H. D. Malone, of Sedalia, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant and wore a gown of aqua blue nylon ballerina length. Her corsage was of pink gladioli.

Mr. Andrew G. Smith, Jr., of Sedalia, served as best man.

Mrs. Jack Janney, aunt of the bride, wore a dress of navy blue chiffon and Mrs. W. P. Williams mother of the bridegroom, wore black chiffon with black accessories. Their corsages were of gardenias and stephanotis.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The dining room table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a three tier wedding cake on either side of which were burning white tapers. Beside the cake stood a doll dressed exactly like the bride.

The couple left on a trip immediately after the reception and will return this evening where they will be at home at an apartment at 306 East Second street. For traveling the bride wore a dress of light blue taffeta with black accessories and her corsage was of carnations, stephanotis and red roses.

Guests from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Huffman and Mr. William Huffman, of Stover; Miss Betty Thurman and Miss Dorothy Lee Williams, of Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Janney, daughter, Jackie and Mr. Herschel Stroud, all of Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bellinger, of Ithica, N. Y. and Mr. Chester L. Pohl, of Vernon, N. Y. Mr. Billinger and Mr. Pohl were in the same company with Mr. Williams on the island of Kyuschu, Japan.

The bride is a graduate of the Stockton high school in the class of 1950.

Mr. Williams was graduated from Smith-Cotton high school in the class of 1946 and is now employed at the Missouri Public Service Corporation.

If your floors, as is, can't bear scrutiny—have you ever thought of wallpapering them? It can be done, and very successfully, too. The paper is applied as it would be on the wall, then given a coat of shellac, followed by several coats of clear varnish for protection.

The new three-dimensional wall coverings, diamond patterns, black patterns, or all-over florals are very effective. And believe it or not, it wears, and wears well.

"It's COOL at Sage's"

Style Guide for today's woman

By Frances Sagaloff at Sage's

Several people, in the last few weeks have inquired about fur coats. The past few winters have been more or less mild ones, and fur coats, from a practical point of view, have had little value.

Most people have only one good coat at a time, and it would be a fur coat. Now it is impossible to be comfortable in a fur coat too many days during the winter. Furs as a luxury, such as jackets, stoles and fur scarfs haven't a place on too many budgets. These types of fur pieces are worn only for dress-up and they should be the very best of pelts and expertly styled.

It is better to have a cloth coat with a small but good fur collar, than to have a lot of inexpensive fur. You will note some of the smartest dressed women will be wearing a good cloth coat with a small natural fur collar and then perhaps a hat with a muff. Shop for a fur-trim coat and see how you like them before making a definite decision.

A Gruelling 100 Laps Of Stock Car Racing Will Be Feature Fair Event Today

Over $2250 In Prize Money

Erwin Yeager, Local Driver Will Pilot A Yellow Cab Hot Rock

The longest auto race in the history of the Missouri State Fair, a gruelling 100-lap grind for late model stock passenger cars, will bring the 1950 event to a roaring climax today.

The competition, worth more than $2250 to the winners, looms as one of the biggest gate attractions of the exposition and fair officials have again prepared for an overflow turnout.

Late Model Cars Entered

More than 30 drivers, mounted in shiny late model coupes and sedans of practically all leading makes, will swing into action shortly after 11 o'clock this morning for the qualifying time trials.

The 20 fastest will begin whirling at 2:30 p.m., as the big race gets under way.

Bidding for top laurels as the cars, a majority of them 1950 models and none older than 1946, choke the turns of the half-mile oval will be daredevils drawn from many walks of life, including a traveling salesman, a night cook, a speed cop, a taxi driver, a professional big car racer, a pretty Kansas housewife and many others.

The lone feminine entrant is Patricia Sutton of Abilene, Kas., who will drive her husband's 1949 Dodge. She finished eighth against a strong field of male rivals in a recent 100-mile race on the Iowa State Fair track at Des Moines.

A Sedalian Is Entered

One local entrant, Erwin Yaeger, night cook in a local cafe, is listed among the starters. The 29-year-old Sedalia aspirant will be at the wheel of a Yellow Cab.

From the ranks of the big car racers, Frankie Luptow will be on hand with the 1950 model Oldsmobile he uses to transport his famed Black Panther Offenhauser racer across country.

Herschell Buchanan, a Shreveport, La., traveling salesman and ex-big car driver, will bring the most impressive 1950 record into the fray. He won seven straight 100-mile races this year before defeat. Buchanan has entered a 1948 Nash.

Eddie Anderson, Grinnell, Ia., auto repair shop operator, boasts another imposing record. He won six out of seven 100 mile starts with a 1949 Mercury, but now pilots a 1950 model of the same make presented him by more than 100 appreciative dealers in Iowa and Nebraska.

Speed Cop Signs Up

The speed cop entrant is Ralph Dyer of the Shreveport police department.

Kansas, a hot bed for stock car racing, will be represented by the biggest state delegation, with such lead-foots as Art Combs, Emporia, who won fourth money in the $10,000 Milwaukee 150-mile event, Don Smith, Topeka, Bill Lehman, Hutchinson, and others in the Sunflower state contingent.

To score the event, officials have arranged for a professional chief scorer, an Iowa court reporter who will record the progress of the race by stenotype, and 20 Sedalia Boy Scouts to operate the huge infield scoreboard.

Model Plane Contest Opens Today at Park

Meet Sponsored By Sedalia Lions Will Include Many Ships

Today will mark the opening of the Lions club sponsored Model Airplane contest, which will be held at Liberty park with model enthusiasts from Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Illinois and Ohio participating.

The meet, sanctioned by the Academy of Model Aeronautics in Washington, will feature U-controlled models only. The contest will begin at 9:00 o'clock this morning.

The class A models in the speed contest will be required to make four complete laps on fifty foot lines. The class B models in the speed contest will be required to make six complete laps and the class C and D models will have to complete 6 laps. At the signal from the model's Flyer, three timers with stop watches will start clocking for the required number of laps. The time for all ships will be recorded at the officials table and the winner, with the best time in each division and class will be announced at the close of the contest.

Stunt Contestants Entered

The stunt contestants will also be put into classes similar to those the foregoing paragraph with the exception that A and B classes will be combined. The flyers will put their models through a set pattern and the judges will make the decision as to which completed the performance with the best control and skill.

The Flying scale model contest is open to all age groups and motor displacements. The flyers will be given points on how well their plane flew and on the detailed scale construction. This particular field is perhaps one of the more interesting to the nonbuilder and spectator, since replicas of B-26s, B-25, B-29 and some of the small "real" airplanes are usually entered in this event. According to word received here by John Flashpoler, there will be some of these "ships" here for the meet.

New Team Racing Event

The team racing event is perhaps the newest addition to control-line flying. One modeler will take his plane into the flight circle and with the assistance from two "crew men" will take his ship off and starting flying. The second man will start off likewise until both planes are flying in the same circle. The motor displacement for these plane is limited at .29 cubic inches and the maximum fuel supply of one ounce. The planes when out of gas land and the two crew men rush out to refuel and to get the plane started on its way again. This up and down process will continue for seventy-five laps or the equipment of five and one-third miles. The planes will be on sixty foot control lines, and the modeler who completes the stated number of laps wins the contest.

All events are expected to offer plenty of excitement and thrills for the throng of spectators that usually attend the contests.

Softball League Will Resume Its Schedule

The Smithton Men's softball league will go back into action the week after a week's vacation period.

The Tuesday night sessions will start off at 8:00 o'clock with the Cubs and the Giants tangling at 8:00 o'clock and the Dodgers and the Pirates meeting at 9:30 o'clock.

On Thursday night the Braves will meet the League leading Phillies and at 9:30 o'clock the Cardinals will cross bats with the Reds.

Pro Football Debut In K.C. Thursday Nite

Washington Redskins To Meet N. Y. Yanks In Game at Stadium

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 27—Big league professional football visits Kansas City for the first time Thursday when the Washington Redskins arrive by chartered plane to set up training quarters at Rockhurst College. They play the New York Yanks at 8:15 p.m. September 7 in Blues stadium.

It will be the fifth game for the Redskins. They defeated Los Angeles 17-14; San Francisco, 31-12 and played the Chicago Cardinals last night (Sat.). Detroit will be the opponent Wednesday night in Dallas.

The Yanks arrive September 5 and workout the following day in Blues stadium.

Both coaches, Herman Ball of the Redskins and "Red" Strader of the Yanks, have announced that pre-game practice will be in secret. The contest here will be the final exhibition for both squads and will serve as a final tune-up for National League openers September 17 when the Redskins go to Baltimore and the Yanks to San Francisco.

Only public appearance of either group will be at 11 a.m. next Saturday at Rockhurst when Redskins coaches and players conduct a clinic for college and high school coaches and players. Attendance at the clinic will be by invitation only.

Advance sale for the game here has topped $15,000. That is not a "boom" business, but the sponsors seem satisfied although a gross in excess of $50,000 is required for them to break even. Sideline tickets for the game are on sale at Blues stadium at $5.00 each.

Twelve days before the battle the Redskins seem to be farther advanced. Although the Yanks progress has been slow, it has been steady. They showed to good advantage in blasting the Chicago Cardinals, 23-10.

Davis Cup Cinched By Australia Club

FORREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 26—(AP)—After a lapse of 11 years, Australia again became the World's Tennis capital today as its brilliant Davis Cup team swept to its third straight victory over this nation's stars and clinched the international trophy.

With more than 11,000 thrilled fans sitting in on the kill, John Bromwich and Frank Sedgman completed the rout with a tingling five-set win over Ted Schroeder and Gardnar Mulloy. The scores were 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4, and it was a humdinger of a struggle.

Two more singles will be played tomorrow, but only for the record. The Aussies were congratulated and told the cup was theirs in a lively ceremony on the stadium court immediately after they quit knocking our lads around today.

Smithton League To Resume Play

The Smithton Men's Community softball league will go back into action this week following a layoff during fair week.

Tuesday night at 8:00 o'clock the Cubs and Giants will meet and at 9:30 the Dodgers will face the Pirates.

On Thursday night the 8:00 o'clock game will find the Braves tangling with the league leading Phillies and at 9:30 the Cardinals cross bats with the Reds.

Hubbard Grid Workout Starts Early Monday

Howard S. Broadus, Physical Education instructor at the C. C. Hubbard high school, announced Saturday that pre-school football practices for the Hubbard football squad of 1950 and '51 would get underway at 9:00 o'clock Monday morning.

At this time the boys will be issued their equipment. Coach Broadus said that the starting date for school has caused slight alteration in his plans. The first game of the season will be with Lincoln high school of Kansas City. The game will be played on Lincoln's home field at Kansas City.

Sport Scraps

By D. Kelly Scruton

SOMETHING new in racing sports comes to Sedalia this afternoon—weatherman permiting—in stockcar racing at the Missouri State Fair grounds. It really isn't new, it is just a revival of the pioneer days when automobile manufacture companies matched their cars in races over the country.

It has been many years since racing of stock cars was done at the Missouri State Fair, so many years ago that it takes the "old-timers" to recall the big wheel "buggy" races. In those days when a stock car made as much as a 45-mile an hour average it was something.

Al Sweeney and Gaylord White, who are supervising today's events for the fair, both told of the olden days when it was competition between the manufacturers of the automobiles. Revival of the stock car racing which started less than three years ago is attracting the various car dealers to enter their cars in the events.

At the present time privately owned cars are entering the races, while there is one or two dealers here-and-there who have cars entered. Next year it is almost certain fifty-percent of the automobile dealers will be back in the stock car racing business barring world-wide conditions.

Both men recalled the stock car races when Alexander Winton raced his own manufactured automobile along with R. E. Olds who had the Reo, Henry Ford at one time raced his Ford car. They also recalled it was when "Old 99" was too fast for Henry Ford, he secured Barney Oldfield to drive his car for his company.

"It was such men as those who started automobile racing. Built it to a point where stock cars were stripped down and in later years the racing car came into its own." Sweeney said. "Racing of big cars and even the midgets has been such they have attracted crowds which almost equalled football, baseball, an other sports, but with stock car racing being revived they are now drawing more fans than baseball," Sweeney concluded.

White remarked it will not be long before automobile manufacturers will again have their cars in the stock car events and hire professional racing teams to handle their cars—just like the pioneer days."

It's a hundred lap stock race today with plenty of thrills in store for racing fans.

TONIGHT at the fair, the closing performance will be another Thrill Show, this year Jimmy Lynch and his Death Dodgers return to Missouri to provide those expecting thrilling events. The Lynch daredevils will show the public how not to drive after what happens this afternoon with the stock car races.

In fact, some of the thrills which are anything but what happens on the highway today, will be such that anyone suffering from heart trouble should stay at home. That is how it was explained by one of Lynch's drivers Saturday night.

The program has several new stunts devised through the winter months by Jimmy Lynch himself.

THE Sedalia Chiefs have pulled into the last leg of the CEMO Ban Johnson second half with at least a tie in store for them for the league title in the second half. The Chiefs won the first half, now with Mexico—who they expect to defeat Tuesday night they will be possibly tied with Columbia, providing Columiba wins their remaining games.

A one-game play-off will be held to decide the second half winner, of Sedalia wins, they'll be undisputed champions—if they lose, then a three-game series between the Chiefs and Columbia will be played to decide the Southern Division champions for the season.

The Chiefs if they win the title will then meet Brookfield of the Northern Division for the CEMO championship.

Col. James M. Sellers Suffers Heart Attack

LEXINGTON, Mo., Aug. 26—(AP)—Col. James M. Sellers, 55, Superintendent of Wentworth Military Academy, suffered a heart attack late yesterday after playing in the Missouri Valley Veterans Tennis Tournament.

Sellers was taken to a hospital. His condition was reported improved this afternoon.

Giants Trim Cards With A 3-0 Victory

The Win Places Giants Within A Game Of Fourth

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 26—(AP)—Sal Maglie was liberal in granting hits today but stingy in allowing runs as he pitched the New York Giants to a 3-0 victory over the fading St. Louis Cardinals.

Maglie permitted the cards to hit safely in each inning and granted 11 blows but bore down in the clutch to post his 12th victory and seventh straight. Three doubleplays helped Maglie out of trouble. The triumph advanced the Giants to within a game of the Fourth place Red Birds.

Harry Brecheen went all the way for St. Louis and allowed eight hits. Alvin Dark banged his 13th homer to break a scoreless tie in the fourth inning. The Giants added another run in the fifth on a walk, sacrifice and double by Ed Stanky. They completed the scoring in the eighth when Dark singled with two out, moved to second on a wild pitch and scored on a single by Monte Irving.

Dodgers Are Climbing Up In League

Bob Lemon Of The Indians Breaks Record, 20 Wins

By RALPH RODEN

NEW YORK, Aug. 26—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers retained their slim margin in the American League pennant race today while the Philadelphia Phils lost ground to the onrushing Brooklyn Dodgers in the National.

Individual stars of the day were Bob Lemon of the Cleveland Indians who became the majors first 20 game winner and Roy Campanella of Brooklyn who drove in six runs on three home runs.

The Tigers defeated the Boston Red Sox, 8-6, to halt an 11-game Boston winning streak. Detroit broke a 4-4 tie with four unearned runs in the ninth. An error by Johnny Pesko opened the floodgates. Johnny Lipon climaxed the uprising with a two-run double.

Red Sox Bounce Back

Boston charged back in the last of the ninth, scoring twice and had the bases loaded when Vern Stephens popped out to end the game. Fred Hutchinson, who took over in the first, was the winner.

New York's second-place Yankees edged the St. Louis Browns, 3-2, to stay a game and a half off the pace. Yogi Berra scored the winning run from second base in the last inning.

The third place Indians dumped the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-4, with Lemon, fifth Cleveland pitcher, the winner. Lemon came on in the eighth with the Indians leading and protected the edge.

Washington nosed out the Chicago White Sox, 7-6, winning out in the eighth with a three run rally. Howie Judson walked Cass Michaels with the bases loaded to force home the winning run.

Pirates Upset Phils.

The Pittsburgh Pirates trounced the Phils, 14-4, with Wally Westlake leading the way by driving in four runs, three on a homer.

Brooklyn, with Campanella the ringleader, downed the Cincinnati Reds, 7-5, for its 10th straight victory. The Brooks now trail the Phils by four games.

The third-place Boston Braves snowed under the Chicago Cubs, 12-4. Vern Bickford coasted to his 16th victory.

Sal Maglie pitched the New York Giants to a 3-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. The triumph was his 12th and seventh straight. The Cards hit safely in every inning but not when it counted. Harry Brecheen went the distance for the losers surrendering eight hits including Al Dark's 13th homer.

S-C Tigers Grid Squad Holds First Practice

Twenty-one boys, including four lettermen, turned out for an early practice session of Smith-Cotton high school's 1950-51 Tiger football squad Saturday afternoon on the practice field, just west of the school.

Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow was out on the field keeping the boys moving and coaching them in warming-up exercises and in punting and passing routines. The session lasted about an hour and a half.

Dow was not available for comment Saturday night, but a larger group of Tigermen are expected to be on hand Monday afternoon at 2:30 when the second session will come off.

TWO CLAIM CUP—Henry Ransom, of Dallas, winner of the Tam o' Shanter "world" golf championship at Chicago, tries the cup for size on his twenty-month-old son, Henry Jr.

Frank Luptow Wins In 12-Lap Sweepstakes

Stock Cars Race Today At Fair With 35 Entries

A capacity crowd was on hand Saturday afternoon to watch Frank Luptow, Tampa, Florida racing star win the 12-lap National Speedway Sweepstakes event after taking top money earlier in the two and one half mile Inaugural Dash.

Outdistancing such opposition as Bobby Grim, Phil Mocca, Herschel Wagner and Pancho Alvarez, who completed the race behind Luptow in that order, the Tampa driver took his Bardahl Offenhauser through the muddy six mile trial in 5:52.51.

Racing for the first time on the Sedalia track was Pancho Alvarez, Havana, Cuba, driving a black Ranger. Alvarez circled the slick half mile oval in :31.50, for the fastest time in the qualifying trials. He placed second, behind Luptow, in the Inaugural Dash and fifth in the Sweepstakes.

Crews "Ironed-Out" Track

Crews began working on the wet track several hours before the race driving trucks over the mire in an effort to pack the wet surface. The time trials got off to a slow start because of the track condition, but later during the program the drivers were able to register faster speeds.

Exposition Inaugural Dash—2½ miles. Frank Luptow, first; Pancho Alvarez, second; Phil Mocca, St. Louis, third. Time 2:44.24.

National Speedways Dash—2½ miles. Bobby Grim, Indianapolis, Ind., first; Herschel Wagner, St. Joseph, Mo., second; Vern Bradley, Moline, Ill., third. Time: 2:40.00.

Ozark Dash—2½ miles. Al Funderburk, Tampa, Fla., first; Jim Wegescheider, St. Joseph, Mo., second; Jim Haynes, Oglesby, Ill., third. Time, 2:44.71.

Invitational Handicap — 1½ miles. Phil Mocca, first; Herschel Wagner, second; Fritz Tegtmeier, Elgin, Ill., third. Time, 1:40.02.

Semi-feature—five miles. Jim Wegescheider, first, Al Funderburk, second; Johnny Moore, Pasadena, Calif., third. Time: 5:48.07.

National Speedways Sweepstakes—six miles. Frank Luptow, first; Bobby Grim, second; Phil Mocca, third; Herschel Wagner, fourth; Pancho Alvarez, fifth; Johnny Moore, sixth; Jim Wegescheider, seventh. Time, 5:52.51.

The racing program was sanctioned by the International Motor Contest Association.

The stock car races will be held in front of the grandstand today with over 35 cars competing for top money in the 100-lap run over the half mile dirt track.

CMSC Mules Open Practice Sessions

WARRENSBURG, Mo., Aug. 26—(AP)—Coach Tate Page checked out equipment to 90 men today and told them to report for the first football practice at Central Missouri State College Monday.

Twenty-four lettermen were on hand to swell Page's hopes of bettering Warrensburg's third place finish last year in the M.I.A.A. Another letterman, Bobby Doerr, has been appointed to West Point.

On hand today were Tommy Thompson, all conference end on whom Page will rely heavily, and Gene Dowdy, high school star from Sedalia who went through spring practice at the University of Georgia.

The Mules' first game will be at home the night of September 15 against Harold Hunt's Southwestern College Moundbuilders from Winfield, Kas.

Thrills, Spills, Tonight

Jimmy Lynch Thrill Show, Death Dodgers Are Feature Tonite

Thrills, spills and excitement is the program for tonight in front of the grandstand on the race track when Jimmy Lynch and his Death Dodgers returned to the Missouri State Fair to furnish the above excitement. Lynch and his team of dare-devil drivers have been here before and need no introduction to Sedalia thrill seekers.

He is coming inspite of the unexpected thrills his troupe gave Friday near Des Moines, Ia., when one of their large tractor trailers with equipment overturned and scattered automobiles and props all over the highway. New cars new props were obtained from other Lynch Dodgers troupes to be able to provide one of their best night shows at the Missouri Fair.

Saturday several auto racing drivers were discussing the Lynch show and all assured the visitors they have a real exhibition this year, with plenty of new tricks and thrills on their program.

Motorcycle death-defying riders, drivers who ran their speeding cars into other cars, doing high jumps from ramps and such. Their drivers also give a demonstration of how to drive and how not to drive on the highways which is very educational.

The thrill show starts at 8:00

Charges Of Importing Commercialized Sex

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Aug. 26—(AP)—A prosecuting attorneys says that a Chicago syndicate which supplies commercialiezd sex for that city is importing lewd strip teasers to a Rock Island tavern. There, he charges, the strip teasers perform lascivious and suggestive acts "before the mesmerized eyes of callow youths and the jaded lechery of mature peeping toms."

The charges were made in a complaint filed yesterday in the Rock Island circuit court. The prosecutor, Bernard J. Moran, seeks an injunction from the court to close down Bea's Bowery.

The tavern is operated by Mrs. Beatrice Ryman, 33, and Luther Mellott, the petition said.

Barrow Sells at Fair For $500

Grand Champion Was Exhibited by R. D. Kahrs, 13

The Grand Champion Barrow of the junior division at the Missouri State Fair, owned and shown by R. D. Kahrs, age 13, of Smithton, was sold at auction for $2.00 per pound last Thursday night in front of the grandstand just prior to the evening's show. This is a new all time high for price per pound for any barrow ever sold at the fair. R. D.'s barrow, weighing 250 pounds, brought him $500 as it was auctioned off before an estimated crowd of 15 to 20 thousand people. The high bidder was E. W. Thompson, owner of the E. W Thompson Chevrolet and Buick Company of Sedalia. Mr. Thompson's bid of $2.00 per pound was accepted by the auctioneer as the final bid on this grand champion Poland China fat barrow. Mr. Thompson made the opening bid of the evening with a bid of $1.00 per pound. From then on until the auctioneer announced the barrow sold, tension was high as the bids kept climbing. As each bid was made the crowd indicated their approval through hearty applause.

R. D. is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kahrs of Smithton, Mo. He is a 4th year member of the Smithton 4-H club of which his father is both the community club leader and swine project leader. R. D. started his 4-H club career in 1946 with a gilt his father gave him for helping care for the family livestock. Since then he has made continuous progress in his breeding and showing. The barrow sold last Thursday night is a grandson of R. D.'s original gilt.

R. D. has shown swine each year at the state fair and other smaller shows since becoming a 4-H'er. Both R. D. and his sister, Mary Lee, age 11, are following in their father's footsteps in the swine business. Mr. Kahrs, a former 4-H club member first began showing swine in the "Twenties" as a 4-H'er himself. Since then he has developed a reputation as a breeder and shower of registered Poland Chinas. Last year at the State Fair, Mary Lee's pen of three fat barrows was the over-all-breeds grand champion and R. D.'s junior boar pig was the reserve grand champion in it's class.

R. D.'s barrow was farrowed February 20, 1950, one of a litter of 12 pigs. Its dam is Tamahawh Fairy and its sire, Broadtop. On the day it was sold the barrow weighed 250 pounds at 6 months and 4 days of age. This is a daily gain of approximately 1.5 pounds. R. D. was able to get such a good rate of gain by following recommended swine management practices which included plenty of clean pasture, fresh clean water, the use of a high protein supplement with his feed, an ample supply of mineral mixture, and worming his pigs with sodium flouride.

Announce That Ark. Will Get Bomb Site

FORT SMITH, Ark., Aug. 26—(AP)—Radio station KWHN said in a special newscast that Arkansas has been selected as the site for at least a portion of the new $200,000,000 H-bomb plant.

The station said it obtained the information in a telephone call to Rep. Boyd Tackett (D-Ark) in Washington.

The station reported it had no other details except that Tackett said the bids of Oregon and Alabama for the plant had been rejected.

At Washington the Atomic Energy Commission said no site selection has been made. Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) also said he had no information that any decision had been reached on a site.

U. N. Inquiry Welcomed by United States

Austin Says Charges Of Red Communists Ridiculous Falsehood

By MAX HARRELSON

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 26—(AP)—The United States said it would welcome a full United Nations inquiry, either here or on the spot, into Chinese Communist charges of American aggression in Formosa.

Chief U. S. delegate Warren R. Austin made it clear, however, that the United States would fight any attempts to sidetrack discussion of the Korean conflict to take up the Formosa problem.

In a letter to Secretary-General Trygve Lie, Austin labelled as "ridiculous falsehoods" the aggression charges made yesterday in a cable from Chou En-Lai, foreign minister of the Peiping regime.

Austin Makes Denial

Austin denied the United States had any designs against Chinese territory and said the only reason the U. S. Seventh fleet was sent to patrol the strait of Formosa was to prevent further fighting between the Communists and Nationalists.

The text of the Austin letter was circulated to Security Council members just before the Council met under the presidency of Soviet delegate Jakob A. Malik for a long French translation of speeches delivered Tuesday by Austin, Malik and Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb. The translations required 1 hour and 32 minutes.

Malik then made what he called a "corrective" speech answering the Tuesday attacks by Austain and Jebb. His speech was much milder than usual. He repeated his previous charges that the U. S. was the aggressor in Korea and said both the U. S. and British have tried to destroy Russia instead of accepting Russia's offer of peaceful co-existence.

The Council adjourned until Monday when it will meet in closed session to consider its annual report to the General Assembly. No date was set for the next meeting on Korea or Formosa.

State Fair Awards

Milking Shorthorns

The 1950 Missouri State Fair Milking Shorthorns showed a gain in numbers over last year with about fifty head exhibited by nine breeders from the "Show Me State."

With new National Headquarters now at Springfield, Mo., breeders of the "Farmers Cow" are hopeful that interest will be accelerated in purebred dairy shorthorns bred to meet the needs of the family type general farm very common in the corn belt area. The new modern office was built largely by donations from members of the association and is a permanent home in every respect.

Roy E. Horton, Princeton, Ill., judged the show. Dan E. Miller assisted by Elmer Arnsperger are in charge of this division of the Sedalia Fair.

Suit On Contract Is Filed By James P. Quinn

A suit on contract was filed in the Circuit clerk's office Friday afternoon by James P. Quinn against William B. Couhig.

The petition states that in a contract which leased the ground floor of the building at 210 South Ohio avenue to the plaintiff the defendant promised to remodel the floor of the building and also the outside front completely with the exception of the two brick posts on either side of the present front.

The plaintiff says that this part of the agreement was not fulfilled and he asks compensation for this "breach of contract" $3,000.

Attorney for the plaintiff is Alex Publes of Kansas City.

Automobiles Were Ransacked Saturday Morning

Two automobiles were ransacked early Saturday morning, according to reports given the police.

Frank Schouten, 909 South Harrison, reported his car was searched and two Eastman cameras taken from it.

Paul J. Schuber, 1409 South Osage avenue, reported his car had been entered, but nothing apparently was taken.

Farewell Meeting For Rush Family

A farewell meeting for Captain and Mrs. A. R. Rush, of the Salvation Army, who are leaving August 30, for St. Louis, to live, will be held at the Temple at 8:00 o'clock tonight.

The meeting will be open and friends of the couple and their family are welcome.

Bonds Are Forfeited

Three overtime parking violators failed to appear in police court Saturday morning and their cash bonds of $1.00 each were ordered forfeited by Judge Jerry Trotter.

Consult

J. W. Watts about this problem:

Our home has been insured for $8,000 for many years. The inflation in real estate has probably raised its value above $10,000. If our home burned, would our fire insurance pay the amount it would take to replace the home, or only a maximum of $8,000?

See for Yourself!

The best way you can judge any hybrid corn is to look at that corn actually growing in your neighborhood. An actual field inspection will tell you more in a few minutes than weeks of reading. It's a tough test . . . but a fair one, and one you are qualified to make.

Why not give MFA Hybrids such a test this summer? Have a first-hand look at MFA Hybrids actually growing in your community. Check their performance on soil like yours and under the same weather conditions. Compare them any way you like, to all other hybrid corns, and notice the difference. See for yourself why more and more Missouri farmers are turning to MFA Hybrids for high-yielding, easy-picking, better-feeding corn.

Acheson In A Rap At Navy Secretary

Speech Made By Matthews Is Being Criticized

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson, with an assist from President Truman, cracked down hard on navy secretary Matthews today for saying that United States should be willing to institute a war "to compel cooperation for peace."

The action not only precipitated the first wide open cabinet split on foreign policy since the row between James F. Byrnes and Henry A Wallace in September, 1946—it also seemed to make inevitable a public debate on a preventive war with Russia.

Matthews expressed his view in a speech at the Boston navy yard last night. Today the state department was asked whether what he said represented government policy—or was perhaps some sort of policymaking trial balloon.

Press officer Roger Tubby, in a statement initiated by Acheson and reportedly okayed by the president, asserted:

"The speech was not cleared by the department of state. Mr. Matthews' remarks about instituting a war for peace do not represent United States policy. The United States government does not favor instituting a war of any kind."

And in a further evidence of White House-State Department cooperation, the White House press office promptly added that the Matthews speech was not cleared by the White House.

Tubby States Policy

Tubby told reporters that ever since the Wallace-Byrnes incident, which former secretary of state Byrnes won when Wallace resigned as secretary of commerce, there had been a firmly established policy on clearance of speeches on foreign affairs. Any speech by government officials which goes beyond the established lines of foreign policy (as laid down by the president) should be cleared with the state department, Tubby explained.

Wallace was fired by Mr. Truman in 1946 after making a speech advocating a softer policy toward Russia. The president at that time laid down orders that no official should make speeches in conflict with established foreign policy and that:

"Any public statement on foreign policy shall be cleared with the department of state."

Whether the administration's prompt reaction against Matthews' opinion would cause him to resign was a question of immediate speculation in Washington.

State department officials said they were moved by two main concerns in promptly repudiating Matthews' statement:

1. They feared that Russian propagandists would seize on the statement as evidence to support their long-time charge that American "war mongers" are "preparing to unleash a new war."

2. They considered the idea of what is generally called a "preventive war" wrong. In their view no modern war between great powers can be won by either side without enormous and permanetly damaging losses; further they believe that America's leadership of peaceful nations depends on its own thorough going devotion to peace.

Matthews told a reporter after the state department's rebuke that his speech was "not intended to be any expression of administration policy." Acknowledging that the text was not cleared in advance by any government agency, he said: "I was speaking for myself. The speech speaks for itself."

Achievement Day Sept. 1 By Club

The Flat Creek 4-H club met Tuesday evening at Anderson School with Mary Jo Welliver, the president in charge. Twenty-five members answered the roll call with their favorite sport. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Phifer and eleven other visitors were present.

The club will have their local achievement on September 1, at Anderson School.

Mr. Bryan Phifer, who is assistant county agent, gave a talk on the correct proceedure of judging. After this, all the club members judged some vegetables that had been furnished by a member in the gardening project.

A demonstration on how to make a bed properly was given by Mary Ann Lewis and Judy Hopkins. Mr. Phifer and the club members evaluated the demonstration.

Mrs. Mabery Irvin and Mrs. Fred Fouch, members of the local extension club, served the refreshments.

Slight Collision At Second And Lamine Saturday Nite

A slight collision involving a 1948 Oldsmobile coupe driven by Charlie E. Peoples, Eldorado, Kas. and a 1941 Chevrolet tudor driven by Oscar Robertson, route 1, La-Monte, occurred at the intersection of Second street and Lamine avenue about 10:05 o'clock Saturday night.

No one was injured and only slight damages resulted and as a settlement was made at the scene of the accident no arrests were made.

Air Guards Have Greatly Improved

DETROIT, Aug. 26—(AP)—Midwestern Air National Guard units have "sharply improved" during the past year, the commanding general of the 10th Air Force reported today.

Back from a 13-state inspection trip of units under his jurisdiction, Maj. Gen. Harry A. Johnson said he had found "great progress" in both training and operating efficiency.

"Equipment is being modernized and many of the National Guard squadrons are now flying the latest type of jet aircraft," Gen. Johnson said. "Great progress has been made in the training of personnel and administrative and staff function has been vastly improved."

The 10th Air Force commander said he stressed the importance of intensive training in aerial gunnery, bombing and rocketry during field conferences with Air Guard personnel.

Gen. Johnson inspected units from Wyoming; Colorado, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Michigan and Indiana.

Divorce is Petitioned

The petition states the couple was married September 20, 1940 and they separated this August.

Attorney for the plaintiff is Fred F. Wesner.

Fisherman Dumps Catch Saves People

So Many Heads Looks Like Seagulls Around Sitting On The Water

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26—(AP)—Fisherman John A. Napoli was homeward bound from sea with a 450 pound salmon catch yesterday when he came upon the area off the Golden Gate where more than 500 persons were struggling in the chill waters.

The hospital ship Benevolence had been sunk in a collision with the frieghter Mary Luckenbach only a short time before Napoli's 34-foot boat, the Flora, came on the scene.

"I met a Coast Guard boat and he told me there was a body in the water," the 46-year-old fisherman related today. "So I started looking around with him too and pretty soon I see lots of them. In fact, it looks like seagulls sitting around on the water, so many heads all around.

"I started pulling them on the Flora. I had to steer and run the engine, so I had a time."

Napoli was alone. His son, who usually goes out with him, was sick.

"When I see somebody I throw him a line and pull him in. One fellow wouldn't let go when I pulled him in, so I twist his arm to make him turn loose. I picked up a batch of 12 and put them on the Luckenbach, thin I picked up another batch and put them on a Coast Guard boat.

"For almost six hours I keep moving around picking them up. In all my life I don't work so hard. My arms are sore today, like I got Charley horses.

"All the time I keep saying in Italian 'God give me strength to pull these people abbard.' one was a priest (Father J. J. Reardon) and he understood and said: 'Don't bother with me . . . get the others . . . and don't worry . . . God will give you strength."

There was a woman (Navy nurse Helen Wallis) "who was so cold she was purple . . . but she didn't complain a bit; not even a word. She sat in the bow and I give her my coat.

"The dead ones they were too heavy, so I didn't pick any up. But the others, they are very grateful and thank me. They want to look me up and pay me but I say, keep your money, I just want to help.

"Boy, if it was fish I was hauling in I would be rich. My own fish? T throw them all overboard I got to make room for the people."

Labor Day Speech By Eisenhower

DENVER, Aug. 26—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will make his first major public address since the Korean war at Labor Day ceremonies in Denver touching off the crusade for freedom.

Eisenhower's address will be broadcast by the four major networks from 10:15 to 10:30 p. m. (EST) Sept. 4. Eisenhower, supreme allied commander in World War II and now president of Columbia university, is vacationing in Colorado.

The crusade for freedom has been organized by the National Committee For a Free Europe, Inc., Palmer Hoyt, editor and publisher of the Denver Post is regional chairman of the crusade, and is arranging the ceremonies at Denver's city auditorium. The simple program will include religious remarks by Protestant, Catholic and Jewish clergy. Opera star Lauritz Melchior will sing the national anthem and also speak briefly on Americanism.

Only Eisenhower's address will be broadcast.

E. L. Steck Buys Reed's Drug Store

Friday evening E. L. Steck, of Cape Girardeau, purchased the Reed's Super drug store, from the owner, Emil Bierenbaum.

Mr. Steck, who is 38 years old, has been associated in the drug store business since the age of 15. He is married and has a son, ten years old. He and his family are members of the Catholic church. He is residing at the Bothwell hotel and his family will join him here soon.

Mr. Steck will also manage the drug store and plans to retain the name of the drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. Birenhaum, who live at 912 Crescent drive, plan to stay in Sedalia and have made no immediate business plans.

Treated At Hospital For Severe Cuts

A call was made by the Ewing ambulance to route B off of South Highway 65 about 6:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon where Mose Glenn of Sedalia had rammed his fist though a windshield of his car while his wife was driving.

A call was received by the state patrol from Mrs. Louis Hancock, who with her husband, was passing at the time of the accident. The troopers applied a tourniquet to Glenn's arm when they arrived and then placed a call to the Ewing funeral home to send out an ambulance.

Glenn was rushed to the Bothwell hospital where he was given emergency treatment for severe cuts on his left forearm.

Slight Injuries As Autos Collide

Only slight injuries resulted in an accident at Thirteenth street and Montgomery avenue, about 9:12 o'clock Saturday morning, when two automobiles collided. Mrs. Pluckett, 45, Peculiar, Mo., received a strained neck and Helen Pluckett, 10, bruises on the head.

They were riding in a 1941 Dodge sedan, driven by E. C. Pluckett.

Pluckett was driving south on Montgomery and the other car, a 1940 Dodge sedan, driven by James Sizemore, 1634 East Fifth street, was headed west on Thirteenth street, when they collided.

Police made an investigation.

Missouri U. Football To Be Broadcast

Sixteen Stations To Carry Tigers' Games Over Sports Network

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 26—Missouri's full ten-game football schedule this Fall will be carried by 16 radio stations on the Missouri Sports Network, Athletic Director Don Faurot disclosed today.

The network, organized last year, will be sponsored by the MFA Mutual Insurance Company and other units of the Missouri Farmer's Association, Faurot said. In addition to the MFA chain of 16 stations, several other stations over the state may be added to the network, if local sponsors are obtained.

Mahlon Aldridge, general manager of radio station KFRU in Columbia, and Wilbur "Sparky" Stalcup—Tiger basketball coach —will again make up the network's broadcasting team. Aldridge is the play-by-play announcer, while Stalcup will handle the color. In 1949, the 16-station hook-up aired four of Mizzou's home games and the Colorado game in Boulder.

Eleven Charter Stations Back

This year, 11 of the charter stations are back on the network. These include: KFRU, Columbia; KHMO, Hannibal; KFEQ, St. Joseph; KMMO, Marshall; KXEO, Mexico; KIRX, Kirksville; KWRE, Warrenton; KDRO, Sedalia; KWOS, Jefferson City; KDMO, Carthage; and KWPM, West Plains.

There are five newcomers on the 1950 network: KBOA, Kennett; KWTO, Springfield; KCHI, Chillicothe; KSGM, Ste. Genevieve; and KFVS, Cape Girardeau.

Hailing his group's new tie-up with Tiger football, MFA president and general manager of its supply divisions J. M. Silvey said today, "The Missouri Tigers are an all-Missouri team, and the Missouri Farmer's Association is happy to bring play-by-play accounts of their games to Missouri people."

The Tigers open their 1950 schedule with Clemson — Gator bowl foe of two seasons back— at Columbia on September 30.

British Troops Sail to Korea

By Gordon Tait

HONG KONG, Aug. 25—(AP)—Fifteen hundred British infantrymen sailed tonight to join United Nations forces in Korea —warned that they would be facing Russian weapons and strategy.

The men of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders and Middlesex regiments boarded the aircraft carrier Unicorn and cruiser Ceylong in a cruise-like atmosphere.

But Malcolm MacDonald, British commissioner general for southeast Asia, told them:

They would be fighting North Koreans, but the Reds' weapons, training and strategy were Russian.

"Every time you strike at the North Koreans," the commissioner said, "you will be striking a blow at the communist attempt to conquer not only Asia, but also Europe; not only Korea, but also Great Britain.

"You will be fighting in North Korea as much in defense of your homeland as if you were fighting on the fields of France or even on the beaches of England itself."

Whether the two ships were going direct to Korea was a military secret.

Britain has announced plans to send a total of approximately 5,000 ground troops to fight in the Korean conflict.

The name Mexico is derived from the Aztec word "Mexitli," title of their national war god.

Boy, 13, Slips Out Of Hospital To Attend School

EARLSBORO, Okla., Aug. 27—(AP)—This is a story for parents, one for them to read to their kids who balk at going to school.

It's a piece about Jimmy Horne, a spunky kid of 13 who went AWOL from an Oklahoma City hospital last week so he can return to school next month.

Jimmy was stretched out on a hospital bed when:

"I got to studying about what the doctors were going to do to me. And right sudden I decided I didn't want another operation because I might be laid up all during the time I should be in school learning thngs.

"So I got out of my bed and dressed. Then I slipped down the halls and got outside without anyone seeing me.

"Then I sure made tracks when my crutches hit the sidewalk."

Jimmy, you see, is a polio victim, and has been since the disease crippled his left leg—when he was two months old.

Jimmy reached the street about 10:30 a.m., and pointed his thumb in the direction of home—Earlsboro—50 miles away.

And ten hours and five rides later he was with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Horne.

"We still don't know how he made it by Oklahoma county and Pottawatomie county officers," Horne said today. "We were scared silly when he got home, but he sure was happy."

Jimmy, who had entered the crippled children's hospital in Oklahoma City for observation, will be in the ninth grade this year.

"And that boy makes good grades, too," Horne said. "He's quite a boy. He's not going back to the hospital right away, at least. We'll let him go back to school."

So Jimmy, who wants to learn, will ride his bike and swim until school starts.

Clip this story, parents. And read it to your kid if he—or she—says, "I don't wanna go to school—it's sissy."

Because Jimmy Doyle is all man. He proved it.

Talk For Club On 'Life On Sub'

"Life On A Submarine" will be the subject of a talk to be given by W. A. Smith at the regular Tuesday noon meeting of the Sedalia Optimist club at the Hotel Bothwell.

Mr. Smith served four and one half years on about five submarines in the Pacific theater in World War II and was chief in the engine room on these "subs." He was stationed at Mare Island Base, Vallejo, Calif.

While in the Pacific, Smith served time on the Navy's two largest submarines, the Naulutus and the Argunaut. The Argunant, was used by Admiral Richard E. Byrd in his recent polar exploration and since that time it has been sunk.

Old Water Tap Held 78 Years

An era of Sedalia's past history was brought to the surface Friday afternoon in the form of a water leak midway between Ninth street and Broadway on Ohio avenue.

Directly in front of where the old Maywood hospital, later known as St. Mary's hospital stood, tap number one, as it is listed in the Sedalia Water Company records, burst about 4:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, leaving a hole in the street.

The significance of this not too unusual occurance was that this tap, 78 years old, was the first one finished in the water system of Sedalia and had never been repaired.

The tap, which is a connection between the water main and the residential service, was made out of iron, whereas the ones used now are copper, and was completed in 1872. At the time of its installation it connected the service at the old Jaynes residence, which was later left to be made into a hospital.

The last time the tap was in use was during the period when a small park occupied the space where the National Guard Armory now stands.

As the tap was out of use the connection was discontinued.

Four Divisions Training Units

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—(AP)—The Army Friday named the four divisions which will serve as training units at four posts opened recently to meet increased training needs.

The divisions and the posts where each will be stationed include 5th Armored Division, Camp Chaffee, Ark.; and 6th Armored Division, Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

This action brings to eight the number of Army posts where training divisions are assigned.

Recruits will enter these divisions for training and then, in many cases, serve in other units.

Heber U. Hunt, Supt. Public Schools Gives Information For Pupils, Parents

Announcements in regard to the opening of school have been made by H. U. Hunt, superintendent:

1. Sedalia public schools will open Monday morning, September 11, at 9 o'clock.

2. School will be in session only a short time Monday for the purpose of checking enrollment, making assignments in regard to textbooks and supplies and for general announcements. The rest of the day will be free for the purchase of books and supplies and for such adjustments in enrollment as may be necessary.

3. Each student who expects to attend school the first semester should be present the opening day as all necessary adjustments will be made upon the basis of attendance Monday.

Some Textbooks Free

4. Textbooks will be furnished free to pupils of the first eight grades. Parents will be requested to purchase for children of these grades only pens, pencils, tablets, writing books, drawing book, crayolas, and water colors. High school pupils must provide their own books. Pupils are urged not to purchase books and supplies until after the opening session, at which time they will be given a list of books and supplies to be purchased. ALL BOOKS AND SUPPLIES SHOULD BE IN THE HANDS OF PUPILS AT THE OPENING OF SCHOOL TUESDAY MORNING, as regular class work will start at that time.

5. AGE OF ENTRANCE — All pupils who will be 6 years old on or before January 22 may enroll.

Principals in Office

6. Students entering school for the first time should present birth certificates in order that no mistakes may be made in recording

Six of Ten In One Family Will Go to College This Year

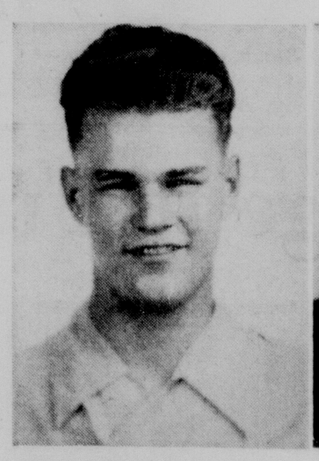

Jack Arnold Haley, 27, who has one more year at Washington university, St. Louis, where he is studying to be an M. D.

Mrs. Bettylee Haley Frey, 28, who will attend Missouri university, Columbia. She is in her third year and is studying to be a technician.

Marvin Haley, 25, who is entering his first year at Central Bible college, Springfield, studying for the ministry.

Bernard (Bob) Haley, 23, who has one more year at Missouri university in business administration.

Wendell (Dude) Haley, 22, who has two more years at Missouri university where he is majoring in journalism.

Donald (Ben) Haley, 17, who graduated this past spring from Smith-Cotton and will enter Missouri university to study law.

Mrs. Grace Haley, who four years ago moved to Sedalia from Boonville and purchased an apartment house at 215 South Grand avenue, has a family to be proud of. She has ten living children, the youngest 13 years old, and six of them are in college, three in high school and the tenth, a daughter, is married and lives in Kansas City.

A diminutive, youthful looking woman, Mrs. Haley smiled when she was asked if she had a son who would go to college this fall, meaning Donald, who was graduated from Smith-Cotton last spring. "I have five sons going to college this fall" she replied, and then added, "and one daughter."

Varied, too, are the professions her five sons have chosen.

Varied Professions

Jack Arnold Haley, is going to be a doctor. He is 27 years old and was graduated from the Missouri university at Columbia in 1949 where he received his Bachelor's of Science degree in medicine. He has one more year at Washington university in St. Louis. Along with getting his education he gave three years to his country serving in the Marine Corps.

Marvin Haley is 25 years old. Marvin was graduated from the Boonville high school and served one year in the army. Now he has decided he wants to become a minister and is entering Central Bible college at Springfield this fall for his first year.

In M. U.

Bernard (Bob) Haley is 23 years old and has one year more in Missouri university where he is taking business administration. He served a year and a half in the army and was a little provoked because reports of his recognitions in service always referred to him as Bernard and nobody knew who he was—everybody knew him as Bob.

Wendell (Dude) Hale has two more years at Missouri university where he is majoring in journalism. He is 22 years old and served a year and a half in the Navy.

Donald (Ben) Haley, was graduated this spring from Smith-Cotton high school and is going to enter Missouri university this fall, where he will study law.

Bettylee Haley Frey, is 28, and attended the University of Kansas City two years, but Bettylee's education, like her brothers' was interrupted. It was a different kind of service that broke in on her education—her's was a wedding service. Then she had a baby and now that the baby is two years old she is going to complete her education as a technician and will enter Missouri university for her third year this fall.

School and Work

Beverly Haley is 18, and has a job in Kansas City. She will enter Northeast high school this fall as a senior and expects to work, too, of evenings.

Jimmy Haley is 17 and is also a senior, but Jimmy is undecided. He doesn't know whether he will go to Smith-Cotton or stay in Kansas City where he has been working during the summer and enter high school there. He doesn't even know whether he wants to go to school at all, but with all his family so education-minded he doesn't exactly think he wants to be the only one to quit. Life is a big problem for Jimmy, there are always decisions where he doesn't know what to do. He has so many talents and abilities that he doesn't know which to choose for a profession, but in all probability he will go on to school and he will accidentally stumble into or be shoved into the right profession.

Teddy Haley is 13 and will be a freshman this fall in Smith-Cotton. He has blond curly hair, likes to play ball and has four years before he has to worry about deciding what he wants to be.

The one child of Mrs. Haley who will not be in school this fall is Mrs. Paul Weatherman, who lives in Kansas City.

Mrs. Haley also has a daughter dead. She was drowned several years ago at the Lake of the Ozarks when she was 16 years old.

9. Students will report to the same building in which they were enrolled at the close of school last year provided: (1) they have not moved out of the district or (2) they have not been promoted to Smith-Cotton high school. This will apply even though the student may have been attending a school last spring by special permission outside of the district in which he was living. TRANSFERS OBTAINED LAST YEAR WILL ALSO APPLY FOR THE COMING YEAR.

Information on Transfers

10. Requests for transfers will be considered during the first week of school. IT WILL BE NECESSARY, HOWEVER, FOR ALL STUDENTS TO REPORT TO THEIR PROPER SCHOOL UNTIL TRANSFERS CAN BE MADE BY THE SUPERINTENDENT. As soon as we know our enrollment situation in the various schools, we will make as many requested adjustments as possible. REQUESTS FOR TRANSFERS SHOULD BE MAILED TO THE SUPERINTENDENT AND WILL BE CONSIDERED AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE.

The public is respectfully requested to be as considerate as possible in these requests.

Workshop For Teachers In Reading

To be Held in Smithton School On September 8

A workshop in reading, presenting the improved process of teaching reading, will be held at the Smithton school from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. on Friday, September 8.

The intention of this day is to carry out a real workshop for the purpose of clarifying the process of teaching reading.

After the objectives are set, the teachers will actually participate in demonstrations, illustrations, and in constructing materials which they will take back to their schools to use. Teachers should bring in questions on aspects of reading of which they are uncertain.

Work will be given from first to the sixth grade, inclusive. Various phases of the process of teaching reading will be stressed, especially word-analysis including phonetics.

Shows Entire Field

Teachers who participate in the entire program will gain a better idea of the sequence and continuity essential in a reading program. If is only when a teacher sees the entire general field that she is fully able to appreciate the part each one must contribute. Therefore, we urge all elementary teachers to attend. Society is demanding that reading be taught more efficiently.

The Workshop will be directed by Miss Dorothy Armstrong of Springfield. She is a supervisor of Ginn and Co., Chicago, Ill., and a specialist in the technique of teaching from a modern psychological standpoint.

Materials for teachers to bring if possible: 1—Manuals for Ginn Basic Readers; 2—Cardboard—one or two pieces (size 22x28) for poster purposes; 3—Construction paper—1 package of various colors; 4—One pair of scissors; 5—

Term Weapon Of Propaganda

TAIPEI, Formosa, Aug. 26—(AP)—Chinese Nationalists looked on Red China's charges of American "armed aggression" in Formosa Friday as a double-edged Soviet propaganda weapon.

They interpreted the attack by Peiping's Red premier—Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai as:

1. The opening of a phase of the new-angled propaganda campaign against the United States.

2. An answer to Nationalist China's continuing charges of Soviet aggression in China.

It is also regarded as an added means to confuse the Korean issue before the U. N.

Chou sent his complaint to the United Nations Security Council two days after the Nationalist cabinet named a five-man delegation headed by Foreign Minister George Yeh to press its charges of Soviet aggression before the U. N. assembly opening in New York Sept. 19.

The Red counter-charge of American aggression in Nationalist China Formosal fits the Soviet pattern of answering criticism by attacking the accuser. It could furnish endless ammunition for the Soviet bloc in debates before the 59-nation assembly.

The arclight, used in the earlier days of electric street lighting, also was applied to some of the first experiments in radio telephony.

Longest Railroad

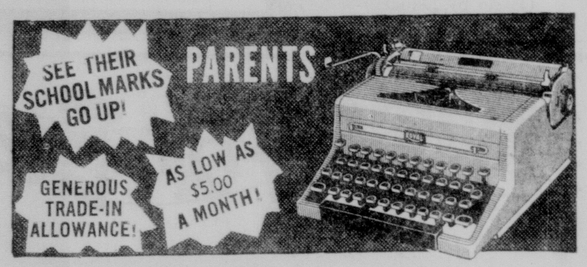

The Trans-Siberian railroad is the longest in the world. Reaching from Vladivostok in Siberia to Moscow, and connecting with Leningrad, it covers a total distance of about 5500 miles.

Diathermy, as applied to medicine, actually is an ultra short wave machine of low range which generates heat within the human body and thereby aids nature in restoring normal conditions.

Tri-Method Progress

Squids progress in three ways: crawling by use of tentacles; swimming forward by use of fins; and swimming backward, by expelling water from the mantle cavity.

IT'S THE SEASON—Even if it weren't spelled in giant-size letters on the pavement, you would know at a glance that these moppets at Binghamton, N. Y., are heading back for that long, old grind that has no future, except next June, when vacation starts again.

Sugar Under Export Controls

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25—(AP)—The government today put sugar back under export controls, effective Sept. 1.

The commerce department, in charge of export controls, announced that each export shipment of sugar valued at $250 or more will require a license, unless the destination is Canada.

Government officials said the supply of sugar in this country is good, and the action is only "precautionary."

The commerce department explained that world prices of sugar, which are normally below prices in the U. S. have recently risen above the U. S. level, thus providing an incentive for shipments abroad.

Statistics show that a large proportion of automobile accidents occur at sunset, when cars are heading into the glare of the sinking sun. Headlight glare also raises the number of accidents at night.

Girl Scout Craft

Interest in Girl Scout craft showed an increase in the 1950 Missouri State Fair show judged Tuesday by Mrs. J. Roger DeWitt, Independence, Mo., member of the regional committee of the five state area known as the "Covered Wagon Region," and also a member of the National Board of Directors of Girl Scouts of America, U. S. A.

Mrs. D. Kelly Scruton, Sedalia, Superintendent for many years of this State Fair department which along with the Boy Scouts of America headquarters is located in the "Scout Building" on the south end of the grounds, was pleased with the great improvements recently made in repairing the scout quarters where two intermediate girl scouts are on duty all day to register the many Girl Scouts that visit the fair. Movies and other visual shows are staged daily for Fair visitors. Awards follow:

'Buddy System' Works Nicely

TOKYO, Aug. 26—(AP)—Americans here who are interested in Korea's future are highly pleased with the "buddy system" of U.S. forces in Korea.

They see it as a counter-move against tendencies that otherwise might lead to total estrangement and even hatred between the two peoples.

The buddy system and how it is working out was reported for the first time this week by AP correspondent Hal Boyle in a column from the Korean war-front.

Under the buddy system—still on a smallscale experimental basis—each American soldier has a Korean soldier with him from morning to night and is charged with teaching him U.S. tactics varying from military matters to personal hygiene.

For every man, woman and child in the United States, there are 14,500 pounds of steel in use.

Federal Funds Help School Lunches In County

School children in Pettis county benefited to the extent of $11,549.21 in Federal funds used to help finance their noon lunches during the school year just ended, Dr. C. F. Scotten, county superintendent of schools, announced today.

Twenty Pettis county schools participated in the national school lunch program during the past school year. 1,986 children enrolled in the 20 schools were eligible to participate in this nation-wide program.

In addition to these funds, Dr. Scotten reports that the schools received without cost to them, a large variety of government donated commodities such as apples, potatoes, butter, canned corn, tomatoes, peaches, and processed cheese, valued at $8,127.30 for use in the program. These commodities are purchased partly through the U.S. Department of Agriculture's price support activities and partly with with federal school lunch funds.

Dr. Scotten said the $11,549.21 paid to participating schools in this county is part of a total of $1,649,345.00 in federal funds allotted to Missouri last year to help finance lunches in the 1593 participating schools. State-wide, these schools served a total of 28,489,564 lunches. That word comes from Earl M. Langkop, director of the school lunch division for the state department of education. The state department of education administers both the school lunch and commodity distribution programs in Missouri.

Value of Commodities

Langkop also reports that the total value of commodities distributed to schools amounted to $1,260,656.91. Total distribution of these commodities in Missouri, including donations to all eligible recipients, (state hospitals, public and non-profit private institutions and child care centers) in addition to the schools amounted to $2,008,183.76. Present indications are that continued large quantities of U.S.D.A. donated commodities will be available this year.

Dr. Scotten says Langkop indicated an increase in the number of Missouri schools participating in the school lunch program during the coming school year. Approximately two hundred additional schools have requested applications for participation in this year's program.

School Lunch Act

The National School Lunch Act, under which funds for the program are made available, was enacted in 1946. The act has a two-fold purpose, to improve the health and nutritional standards of the nation's school children and to provide expanded outlets for local and nationally produced agricultural products. Congressional action on funds for next year would make $83,500,000.00 available in the U.S. for the program. Funds for the administration of the program in Missouri are appropriated by the state legislature. Locally, schools provide a part of the operating cost and part is paid by the school child in the form of a nominal charge for the lunch. In Missouri last year, contributions from local districts, civic clubs, P.T.A. and child payments amounted to $5,653,533.91. Federal assistance in the form of cash reimbursement and government donated commodities amounted to $2,910,001.91. From an agricultural standpoint the program in Missouri provided a market for food amounting to $5,500,155.30.

School Room Walls Now in Pastel Shades

Restful Colors; Improvements in Light Fixtures

Carpenters, brick layers and painters have been busy during the summer and are working hard and fast trying to get the remodeling done on some of the Sedalia schools in time for the children to go back to school. Progress is good, too, even though some of the new additions will not be finished in time.

Broadway school has a very different look on the interior. In fact, so different, it hardly looks like the same building. All of the old wooden stairs have been torn out and the new all-steel stairways have been painted a light green. The wooden corridors have been replaced with concrete over which is asphalt tile flooring. Two south rooms on the first floor have been made into an auditorium of nice size with an eight foot stage and acoustical ceiling. The old auditorium on the third floor has been converted into two class rooms. Down in the basement a door has been cut into an old storage room, combining two rooms. Here will be located a modern lunch room and kitchen for which tables, benches, a new hot water heater and sink. The Parent Teacher Association has purchased a new ice box. A new stairway has been built on the east side to give two ways out.

In Pastel Shades

The walls of the school rooms at Broadway are of blended pastel shades of rose, sage green, peach, turquoise, yellow and blue, with the walls a darker shade and the ceiling lighter. These shades have been selected because they are restful and replacing the center ceiling light in each room, are four new fixtures over the room, each with 300-watt bulbs.

At Horace Mann school there are also new concrete corridors and stairways with asphalt tile covering on the corridor. There has been added, one new class room and there are new light fixtures in the old rooms. The addition is not yet complete but will provide a new lunch room and two new class rooms on the east and on the west new class rooms, new auditorium and gymnasium, which will be identical to the one about to be completed at Whittier.

To Have Gas Heat

Gas heat will be installed in all schools except Washington.

The stairways and corridors at Whittier have previously been concreted. Class rooms are being redecorated in shades similar to Broadway school, except there will be no room in blue, and there, too, will be installed the four 300-watt lights replacing the one center ceiling light.

Jefferson has previously had the new concrete corridors and stairways and new light fixtures.

Hubbard school will have the addition of a new industrial art shop and a high school cafeteria.

Additions at Smith-Cotton

On the southeast side of the Smith-Cotton high school will be the new industrial shop and shower room for boys on the first floor, library and study hall and class room on the second floor and four more class rooms on the third floor.

On the southwest corner will be the girls' shower and dressing room and the little theatre or music room with stage. The seating capacity will be 250. This will be on the first floor. On the second floor will be the Junior high school library study hall and on the third floor will be three more class rooms.

The cafeteria will be very modern and convenient.

School Clothes Are Taking The Popular Place in Stores

From kindergarten to college clothes in shades of the autumn leaves for both girls and boys are featured in the local stores and the brighter the better.

And what is new in coats? It is chinchilla. That heavy woolen cloth with short wavy nap, that has always been a favorite for children's coats—anad now has been taken over for the high school and college girls fashions in kelly green and cardinal red. The coats are short and flattering.

A riot of color is also used for the plaids that are playing such a big part in the youthful styles, whether the little lady is in her first year in school or her last year in college. They are in cottons, wools and linings for sport coats.

Jersey Is Popular

Jersey is another fabric that is popular and is being used for both sports and dress-up frocks, as corduroy in a wide range of colors and styles. Several shades have been combined in some of the corduroy suits which are two piece, consisting of skirt and jacket, three piece with vest added or four piece with matching slacks.

Nylon sweaters are in great demand by the college girls with their favorite skirts being corduroy or plaid wool.

Light weight wool crepe is used for dreses with velvet and velveteen trim and something to add a dressy touch to a costume is the ribbon cocard, a ribbon pinwheel, in plaids or plain colors.

Suits are styled on softer lines with very slim shirt in both wools and rayons, and old fashioned braid is on both suits and dresses.

Various Blouses

Blouses are of various materials and colors, from pastel shades to darker colors and of course, always white. They are fancy or plain and are worn with full, pleated or slim skirts.

Undies are extravagantly trimmed in lace and nylon is the favorite fabric.

Hats are small and trimming is mostly of feathers with velvets and felts the favored materials and colors in a wide variety. Velvet is used in purses, too, as well as suede and leather and fabric gloves are all bright or darker shades.

Children's Clothes

Clothes for the little girl are about the same materials as those of her big sister, with plaid in the lead. Bright colors prevail and styles are flattering for the little miss.

The girls have no monopoly on color, however. Shrts for little boys, high school boys and college boys are in the same shades as those used in girls clothes, with plaids popular. They come in wool, corduroy and other materials are also colorful, but there are plenty of dress-up clothes, too, with suits in greys, browns and blues.

Stores that sell luggage are featuring a complete line for the college boys and girls. Anything needed may be found, and there seem to be plenty of good looking clothes for the boys and pretty pretty feminine fashions for the girls from the sweater and shirts to the frilly formals of satins, taffeta, velvets and net in vivid, beautiful shades to stunning blacks and whites—with velvet trim and flowers to go in the luggage.

Yes, the stores are full of clothes—and pencils, tablets, books and things for the class room—are on hand, too. Whatever is needed for the school girl or boy of any age is ready, for vacation days are getting short and the school bell is about to ring again.

During the past week hundreds of people have visited the Girl Scout exhibit building at the State Fair grounds. There have been exhibits from Brookfield, Kirksville, Cole Camp, Marshall, and Sedalia. The exhibits have been unusually good this year and show very good workmanship. Exhibits can be removed from the exhibit building on Sunday, August 27.

There will be a joint meeting of the leader's association and the council on September 11 at Sacred Hear school. This meeting will be a pot-luck dinner to be held at 6:30 p.m. and will be followed by a business meeting which will consist of a discussion on the "Association Council." Every registered adult of the Girl Scout organization is asked to be present at this important meeting.

It will soon be time for the reorganizing of the Girl Scout troops which will mean the securing of new leaders. If you feel like you would like to become a Girl Scout leader please call the Girl Scout office.

The oldest surviving self-propelled vehicle in America is a steam carriage built by Richard Dudgeon in New York about 1868.

Rolls may be frozen baked or unbaked, but the unbaked ones don't always turn out so well.

Orientation Day Will Be September 8

Smith-Cotton high school halls will ring with thoughts and laughter again on September 8th, when the annual orientation day will be held for the benefit of 217 registered eighth graders and other new students at the school. Webster says: "Orientation, Determination or sene of one's position with relation to environment or to some particular person, thing, field of knowledge, principle, etc." In other words, they will find just where their home rooms will be and what will be expected of them.

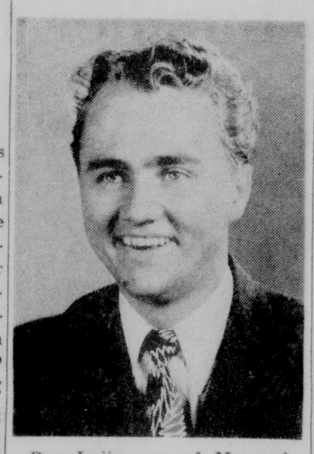

Since the halls of the three-storied building can seem like a maize to one unaccustomed to them ,traffic officers will be stationed throughout the building.

Afternoon Program

A program will be presented in the auditorium at 2:00 o'clock that afternoon. It is as follows:

Opening Exercises
Song leader
Accompanist
Welcome
Introduction of Junior Student council president, Gene Watts
Absence and tardies explained
Care of building
Safety and Traffic
Adjustment to high school level

To Teach

Roy Lujin, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Lujin, of Smithton, has accepted a position as principal of the high school at Appleton City. Mr. Lujin taught last year at Lowery City. He has been attending Central Missouri State college, Warrensburg, this summer and will continue attending nights this winter, working on his master's degree.

Welcome by principal ,Joe Benson

Dismissal to classes

Huge bonfires are lighted and fireworks shot off in England on Guy Fawkes day, Nov. 5.

Cussing-out is Retracted

ON THE EASTERN FRONT IN KOREA, Aug. 26—(AP)—A line company of the Army's 35th Regiment Friday night cussed-out an American artillery outfit.

But this morning things were different.

The artillery unit dropped a shell—apparently by accident—within 150 feet of the 35th outfit's position. The infantrymen didn't like it at all and expressed their thoughts in blunt, even profane, terms.

They apologized at daylight. The round fell among eight North Koreans who had been sneaking up to toss a hand grenade into the position.

All eight were killed.

Holland has a tax on all Christian names after the first one.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TEACHERS NEEDED
Probable Demand for Next 10 Years

The number of elementary schoolteachers expected to be required by U. S. schools during the next ten years far exceeds the number now being prepared for the job. The Newschart above, based on data from the National Education Association, shows the probable demand for elementary teachers through the school year 1959-60 as compared to the number now being trained each year.

State Fair Awards

Horticulture Exhibit

The horticulture exhibits of the 1950 Missouri State Fair were by far the best in both numbers and quality in recent years, according to H. G. Swarthout, Columbia, superintendent of this department for many years. Both fruits and vegetable displays indicated that the unusually cool summer in Missouri had not retarded gardens or orchards.

Tomatoes, potatoes, carrots, peppers and melons made up colorful sections in the very neat agriculture building of this year. Generous table of all types of apples, peaches, grapes, plums, etc. were tempting the crowds that filled the building many times during each day of the fair.

Clyde Cunningham, Columbia, judge of the displays had to use a lot of time in picking the prize winners of this fiftieth year's horticulture show. Some awards follow:

BABE IN THE GOODS—When four-year-old Rose Marie Ball found herself locked in a supermarket in Roxbury, Mass., she and her dog, left, managed to have quite a time for themselves in the two hours before she was released by police and returned to her father, as shown above, right. Starting with ice cream, cookies, and fruit, Rose Marie sampled a large part of the store's more tasty offerings while waiting to be rescued.

TEXAS TIM — Just call him "Mr. Texas, Jr."; "Texas Ambassador of Good Will"; "Ambassador at Large"; "His Honor, the Mayor" or "Special Deputy Sheriff." They are all official titles and commissions conferred on nine-year-old Tim Nolen, of Longview, Tex. Having won a state-wide contest on his personality and photogenic qualities, Tim goes to Los Angeles to compete for the title of "All American Boy."

Trailaway
ELEVATOR

Stores Baled Hay, Small Grain, Ear Corn FAST - Saves Labor

See what a time-and-work-saver the Kelly Ryan Trailaway is. In tests under actual operating conditions, the Trailaway — in 5 minute intervals — moved 240 bu. of small grain, 125 bales of hay, and up to 150 bu. of ear corn. Imagine the time and manpower it would take to equal this with shovels. —Yet, one man alone can set and operate the Trailaway. Before you buy an elevator, come in and let us show you the modern, efficient Kelly Ryan Trailaway.

Bigger Crops COST LESS With MFA PLANT FOODS

When buying fertilizer for fall crops, take along your pencil. Figure for yourself how you can save money, time, and hours of hard labor by fertilizing all your crops with MFA Plant Foods.

THE BEST COSTS LESS!

Get all the facts, and then you'll know why more and more Missouri farmers are using MFA Plant Foods as the low cost way to increased crop production. See how they cut the cost of the nitrogen, phosphorus and potash needed for increased yields. Notice, too, that you handle one ton of MFA Plant Foods instead of two tons of low analysis brand fertilizer.

Yes, bigger crops cost less with MFA Plant Foods because they are your biggest fertilizer bargain. They're guaranteed to be free flowing . . . easy to get through your drill. A grade for every need . . . for every soil test. They're made with magnesium limestone instead of inert filler. And if you need trace minerals you can get a special MFA grade with the trace mineral content Guaranteed on the bag.

It Really Pays!

Year in and year out fertilizer for all your crops is one of the best investments you can make. Long time Missouri results show that every dollar you invest in plant food this fall will be worth three dollars or more at harvest time next year. That's why farmers everywhere say "IT REALLY PAYS TO USE MFA PLANT FOODS."

AIR IS CHEAPER THAN GAS

CLEAN CARBURETORS AND AIR CLEANERS SAVE FUEL

Your engine burns about fourteen times as much air as gasoline—If the air flows to it freely. Clogged carburetors and air cleaners choke motors.

In 5,000 miles of driving your carburetor has handled about 350 gallons of gas, and 1⅛ MILLION CUBIC FEET OF AIR.

Drive in today and let us check your carburetor and air cleaner.

THREE ON A RAFT—The Krause triplets, Tom, Dick and Harry, of Des Plaines, Ill., make the most of those last golden days of summer vacation. Soon the trio will be lodged behind stuffy school desks, dreaming of happy, carefree excursions such as this.

New Rail For Missouri Pacific

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 26—(AP)—The Missouri Pacific railroad and seven of its subsidiaries were autheorized in federal court Friday to spend $6,651 next year in laying new rail.

U. S. District Judge Roy W. Harper also approved expenditure of $280,000 by the Beaumont, Sour Lake and Western Railway Co. for improvements, including construction of a new train yard at Houston, Texas.

The New Iberia and Northern railroad was authorized to spend $47,500 for paving of a street adjacent to railroad tracks at New Iberia, La.

The two railroads are Missouri Pacific subsidiaries.

The Fish and Wildlife Service has tagged 58,000 fur seal pups in the Pribilof Islands, off Alaska, since the project began in 1947. The service hopes to obtain information on rate of seal growth, percentage killed by killer whales and other enemies, travel habits, etc.

The Navajo Indian tribe of Arizona and New Mexico numbers more than 50,000.

SO NEAR, AND YET SO FAR—At Rich Hill, Mo., these Marines examine a sign indicating they are on the 38th parallel, which runs through the community. Looking puzzled as they check their atlas are, left to right, Sgt. Harold J. Hunter, S/Sgt. Clifford R. Morrison and S/Sgt. Daniel G. Christenson, all World War II vets.

Nearly every state in the union has had a tornado at some time.
